Rhinebeck's Think City--Jetport Possible

By LYNN MULVANEY

RHINEBECK

Rhinebeck's former Astor Estate is about to acquire a new title and a new concept as "Think City"—a planned intellectual and residential community.

At the same time it was believed that the Rhinebeck area has been chosen for the site of a Jumbo/SST jetport, according to the New York State Department of Transportation.

Announced by Coogan

Jackie Coogan, former child movie star and vice president of a real estate investment organization, announced his firm's master plans this week for the intellectual center.

It was Coogan, it is reported who went to Albany and learned of the recent Metro New York plans for the jetport.

Included in the proposed Think City will be two 15-story buildings, a heliport, two 15-story condominium apartments encompassing 40 acres, office building and hotel plus 395 acres for a bridle path executive subdivision.

Representatives of Coogan's firm, the Royal Hawaiian Management Corporation, were in Rhinebeck this week conferring with local realtor Homer K. Staley, manager of Beekman Acres, Inc., with regard to potential co-investors to assist in the development of the property.

Seen as 'Drawing Card'

Hawaiian Management envisions Think City as a drawing card for such light industries as electronics, tobacco research, publishing and accounting.

They claim the property will have many amenities to attract those industries "with the moving urge to join the human race in the Manhattan exodus." They also feel the area would be attractive for second-home families.

Special

They cite the fact that the "recent Metro New York plans disclose Rhinebeck as the site of the jetport.

The estate property being considered for the center is part of the 700 acres acquired more than four years ago by Beekman Arms Inc., from Mrs. Vincent Astor.

50 Within Village

With residential sites sold since, the acreage was reduced to the present 486. Fifty of these are in the village and the balance in the township.

All buildings on the estate, located between the Village of Rhinebeck and the Hudson River northward, were given by Mrs. Astor to the late Francis Cardinal Spellman in 1965 and have since been used by the Carmelite Sisters for the Aged.

The palatial buildings of the estate, known as "Ferncliff," overlook the Hudson. It was originally the summer home of William Astor of New York City.

Coogan's firm does not go in for construction but studies land potentials and submits its plan to others interested in development projects. Financial institutions and joint ventures are being invited to participate in development.

Coogan is the project director, Walter "Buzz" Forward is executive vice-president as is George Myers. William Desmond of Beverly Hills, Calif., is president. Forward is presently in Rhinebeck with potential developers. Coogan maintains an office at the Barclay Hotel in New York City for business connected with the Rhinebeck enterprise.

Third Interested Firm

At the time the option, which was taken in January and which expires in May, Staley said that the Coogan firm was the third to express interest in the property but the only one to obtain an option on it.

The subject of the impending "Think City" was a popular topic around the Rhinebeck business community today, as local residents and taxpayers deliberated concerning just how much of a boon the proposal would represent to the community should the plans become a reality.

Rhinebeck, once comfortably fixed as far as tax revenue from the Astor and Morgan estates has, in recent years, missed the income which is no longer forthcoming from those portions of the estates now owned by religious institutions.

Election Day for 7 Area Villages

KINGSTON

Voters in seven villages of Ulster and Northern Dutchess County are going to the polls today to elect mayors, trustees and justices with contests in four out of the seven—Rosendale, Ellenville, Red Hook and Tivoli.

Unopposed incumbents in Rhinebeck, Saugerties and Pine Hill are expected to be reelected barring any mass amount of write-ins.

Voting is taking place from noon to 9 p. m. at designated polling places in each village.

Rosendale Race

One of the more colorful of the contests is in Rosendale where incumbent Mayor Joseph Reid, a Democrat faces Republican William P. Curran, town attorney, who opposed him two years ago and who lost by 14 votes. Running on the ballot with Reid is Donald Juhl who seeks the trustee post being vacated by Joseph LaFera.

Curran's co-runner is Kenneth A. Smith, also seeking LaFera's post. LaFera is moving to Marbletown after his term expires.

Interesting races are also evident in Red Hook and Tivoli where three men seek the mayor's seat in each town.

Red Hook's Mayor Ellroy C. Hand, is being opposed by former mayor Oliver E. Rider and by an IBM employe, Arthur Hand (no relation to Mayor Hand).

Arthur Hand is the only mayoral candidate running alone on the Independent ticket.

Mayor Hand and his village board all seek reelection on the Progressive ticket. They are trustees Robert M. Bowman and Frederick L. Cotting and Village Justice Frank Kolbenskie.

Rider's slate includes trustee candidates Allen T. Smith, an IBM employe and a former trustee and Lloyd C. Mobley. Arnold Colburn, Red Hook businessman, who is endorsed on Rider's citizen's ticket, also seeks election on the Justice ticket.

In Tivoli's three-way race, which has been marked with numerous charges and countercharges, the incumbent S. L. George Persinger seeks reelection. His opposition comes from one of his trustees, Mortimer Appel and from businessman Robert Severance.

Trustee candidates include incumbent William Herdman, Robert F. Barrett Jr., Richard Hogan, Robert Litton and Herbert Mead.

Opposes Glusker

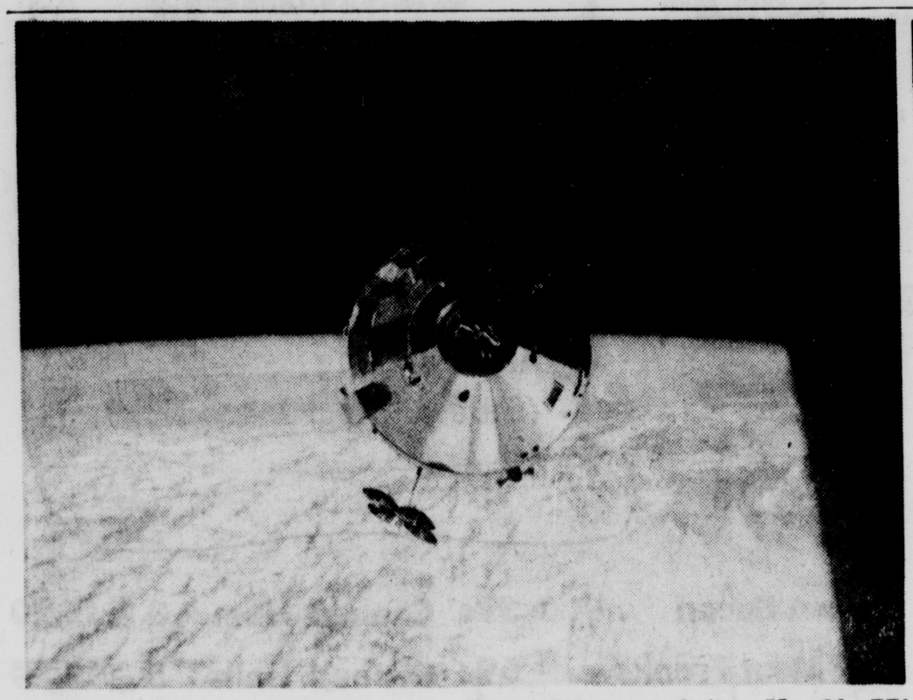

In Ellenville, Democratic Mayor Eugene Glusker who has held office for 14 years, is being faced by Republican Robert Dowling who is half-way through his first two-year term as trustee. Current terms of trustee Democrat Walter Grey and Republican Edward Hoar are also expiring and they seek reelection, being opposed by two political newcomers. Riven Krieger has the backing of the GOP and Abraham Lublinder is endorsed by the Democrats.

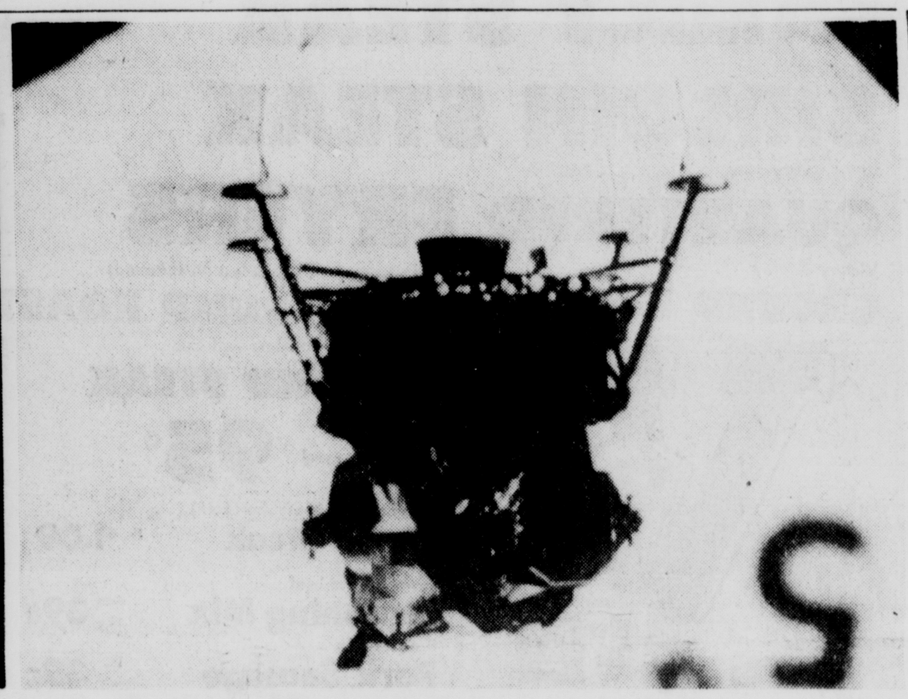

In Saugerties, Mayor Cornelius M. Cox and trustees Maurice L. Clements, Donald R. McCaig and Gregory A. Mulstay are all running unopposed.

Mayor Cox is seeking his third full term and it appears assured unless there is an avalanche of write-ins and that is unlikely. Cox was named to fill the unexpired term of the late William Ziegler in November 1964 and was reelected in 1965 and 1967.

Rhinebeck's new mayor will be Peter Sipperley who will fill the post vacated by Mayor Robert Shackleton who did not seek another term. On the ballot with him are trustee candidates Francis Kinney and John Marks. Police Justice William Pollard also seeks another term.

In Pine Hill, Union Party candidates are all unopposed. Mayor Bernard Wadler seeks another term as does trustee Leonard Van Valkenburgh.

Two Views of Apollo 9's Historic Docking Maneuver

NASA has released the first photographs of the joining, or docking, of the Apollo space craft and the lunar module (LEM) during the 10-day flight of Apollo 9. The successful maneuver clears the way for a possible landing on the moon this July. On the left the command-service module is seen from the lunar module during tests conducted on March 7, the fifth day of the historic flight. On the right, a reverse view, the lunar module, the vehicle men will use to land on the moon, is seen from the command ship. The photo was made by an automatic camera mounted in the command module and operated by astronaut David Scott.

Specific Answers on Uptown Garage

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

A capacity crowd filled the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel this morning to hear Kingston Urban Renewal director James G. Connors speak of the city's two projects in general and the proposed Uptown parking garage in particular.

Connor's address was sponsored by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. Connors began his remarks by stating t' at urban renewal was the "most complex public program ever conceived." He termed urban renewal a "people business" and added, "We're constantly available to the people."

Specific Questions

A number of people made use of Connors' availability this morning to ask him some specific questions on the proposed Uptown parking structure on the site of the old Montgomery Ward building on North Front Street.

Connors had a number of things to say about the parking garage, among them:

The estimated cost of the structure was $760,000 when it was planned four years ago. However, the real cost may be higher and any extra money will have to come from local sources. He noted that bids will be going out shortly and firm cost figures should be in after that.

The state's share of the Uptown parking structure has been earmarked for the parking garage but that there is nothing in writing in the contract between the city and the state about the parking garage.

That contracts calls for $720,000 from the state, not the $760,000 figure widely circulated. Connors also said that there is no possibility of the $720,000 figure being reduced as the state is committed to the city via its contract with the city for the money in question.

Connors said that 85 per cent (of the $720,000) has been received (by the agency) and is now in an interest-bearing account.

He also ruled out the possibility of using other urban renewal funds for the construction of the parking garage. "Federal money can not be used for parking garages. That's the law.," he said.

June Start Possible

Connors, who assumed his duties as executive director of the urban renewal agency in January, said that there was a possibility of reconstruction Downtown in the form of seven private homes as early as June. He said that a contractor has met with the agency and details are currently being worked out.

Speaking of Uptown, he said the agency would work closely with Uptown businessmen in the construction of a semi-mall on North Front Street and Wall Street. He also noted that there had been "feelers" from a number of automobile agencies to locate in the Uptown urban renewal area.

Speaking of historic landmarks, Connors said the agency hoped to retain as many of the historic structures in Kingston as possible. "We want to retain Kingston's heritage as a pioneer community," he said.

Connors was also asked if he would publish a complete accounting of urban renewal spending. "If that is considered a priority item, I see no reason why we can't do it. Our records are open to the public," he said.

Connors once again made an appeal to the community at-large to join together to put pressure on the State Department of Transportation in Albany for action on the proposed Ulster Arterial. "We're doing everything we can to get this highway going," he said. "But we need your help."

The meeting was chaired by Dr. Jeremiah Sachs, president of the Kingston Area Chamer of Commerce.

Onteora, Kingston Alarmed by Slash

Area School Boards Dissent

WOODSTOCK

One Board of Education that has had no qualms about attacking Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's proposed five per cent budget cut is that of the Onteora Central Schools. In recent meetings, board members have forecast "disaster" for the Onteora District should the State Legislature allow the governor to have his way.

Meeting in the Woodstock School Monday night, the board heard Superintendent of Schools Dr. Harold Snyder refer to recent statements by Rockefeller as "a very cruel hoax." He also said that one bill which is now filed and may be finalized this week will reduce the district's transportation budget from 90 per cent to 35 per cent — or almost two-thirds. "That's a lot of money," said Snyder.

Today, Kingston City Schools Consolidated joined Onteora in lamenting the burden which will be placed on local taxpayers if the proposed loss of state aid becomes an actuality. The Kingston Board of Education said that under the governor's proposal, the local district's transportation budget would be reduced from 90 per cent to 59 per cent, or a loss of 31 per cent of the funds obtained under the old formula.

At the Onteora meeting Monday night, Dr. Snyder noted that the governor has been quoted as saying schools "will receive more money this year than last year." But, said Snyder, Rockefeller "perpetrates a hoax" by not explaining that the State fiscal year does not coincide with the school fiscal year. "When we talk about schools not receiving as much aid this year as last," said Snyder, "we are talking about our fiscal year — and we find many of our legislators do not want to talk about it at all...even though the State creates the school fiscal year."

From the Kingston Schools today came the information that, in dollars and cents, the district will suffer a loss of approximately $250,000 in its transportation budget alone — a loss which would have to be made up by the taxpayers of the City School District of Kingston.

"We are not in a financial position to provide transportation for children under our present mileage regulations," the Kingston board said. Currently, the district busses all public, parochial and private school children residing outside the city under the following policy: Grades K through 3, more than ½ miles; Grades 4 through 6, more than 1 mile; Grades 7 through 12, more than 1½ miles. For children residing within the city, bussing is available for Grades K through 6, more than 1 mile, and for Grades 7 through 12, more than 2 miles.

The proposed loss of aid would necessitate drastic changes, says the board. There would be no alternative next year except to follow a policy whereby K through Grade 3 students living more than two miles away would be provided with transportation, and Grades 9 through 12 pupils living more than three miles away would be bussed.

At the Onteora session, Dr. Snyder told the board and audience at Monday's meeting that he "shudders to think of the results" if transportation and other budget items are cut. He also made mention of a bill that would change the aid ratio. Predicating his argument on monies received in aid for those spent at BOCES (Board of Cooperative Educational Services), he said passage of the bill would mean Onteora would be getting $35,000 back instead of $70,000. At the present time, the district receives $70 for every $100 spent at BOCES.

Snyder said that in order to offset these cuts, taxpayers must be prepared to expect highter tax bills. He said budget cuts in Albany would mean in the coming year of as much losses in state aid for Onteora as $92,000 in transportation, and almost $22,000 in BOCES.

And from the Kingston board today came the statement that if the governor's proposal to amend the education law is approved, the Business Management and Transportation committees of the board "will recommend to the full board at its April 3 meeting that its transportation policy be changed."

It was also made known at Monday's OCS meeting that board members and administrators have been trying to encourage the defeat of the budget cut by talking personally with legislators. District Clerk Ralph Breakell reported on a visit with Assemblyman H. Clark Bell on March 5. He said the five Onteora officers who had met with Bell had been "received graciously" by the assemblyman, who assured them he "could not support the five per cent cut for this year," and added that he "preferred to work for a change in the distribution percentage of the formula for next year and the future." Bell feels the State should share in 51 per cent of the costs instead of 49 per cent, said Breakell.

Onteora representatives have an appointment to see Senator Jay Rolison on the same matter today. In addition, the board's legislative chairman, trustee Margaret Atherton, is still investigating the possiblity of the district getting some share of the recently passed one per cent Ulster County sales tax for educational purposes.

Two Hurt in Early Morning Broadway Crash

BROADWAY CRASH — Two persons were injured shortly after 5:30 a. m. today, when this car went out of control, crossed Broadway and slammed into a utility pole opposite Delaware Avenue. Police cited the operator, Elwood Smith, 52, of Country Lane, Lake Katrine, for failure to keep to the right. Smith and his sister-in-law, Jeanette Smith, 51, of the same address were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctors Ambulance. Both suffered facial lacerations and head injuries. The vehicle was heading uptown at the time of the accident. (Freeman photo by Fitzgerald.)

Marbletown Group Explains the Lawyer

TOWN OF MARBLETOWN

Fear for the threat of the future growth of Marbletown caused the Marbletown Businessmen's Association to hire a lawyer to represent them at a hearing on zoning held Friday night in that community.

This was part of a statement released today by the businessmen's association in which it explained why their attorney Louis DiDonna of the firm of Saccoman and DiDonna was present and spoke at the session.

Second Unofficial Hearing

The Friday night meeting of the second unofficial public hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance for the Town of Marbletown. The group that hired DiDonna is composed of more than 70 residents and businessmen.

The statement said the group so feared the threat to the community and the unnecessary restrictions upon the residents that they sought professional advice.

DiDonna explained the purpose of a public hearing is for the public to be heard and to have its questions answered. Rather than have each member of the association speak for five minutes in an uncoordinated appeal to the Planning Board, the individual members relinquished their speaking time to one, well qualified spokesman, the statement noted.

It is already a matter of public record that DiDonna was refused time to present the association's criticisms and suggestions.

DiDonna's statement that he had never before attended a public hearing at which the public's right to be heard was denied, summed up the frustration which led residents and businessmen to seek an attorney in the first place, the statement continued. It also pointed out the apparent truth that members of the Planning Board do not care to hear criticisms or suggestions, the statement said.

Vote Request Denied

In an attempt to make the feelings of those assembled a matter of record, Evan Cox, a member of the association noted that, after the first unofficial public hearing, the Planning Board stated that the majority of the people attending were in favor of the proposed ordinance. Cox, in the statement today said he did not feel that such was the case at that time. However, he requested the Planning Board to take a vote at the second meeting Friday night to determine the sentiment of the people, but this request was denied.

It is the desire of the association to have a true public hearing where both the pros and cons have full opportunity to be heard, and for the wishes of the public to be incorporated into a zoning ordinance for Marbletown, the statement concluded.

Trooper Is Charged In Youth's Murder

By WALTER S. CLARK

LAKE CARMEL

A 23-year-old state trooper arrested Monday and charged with the murder of an 18-year-old youth has been committed to the Putnam County jail without bail pending preliminary examination before Southeast Town Justice Behrend Goossen at Carmel.

Trooper William F. Hilliard, a U.S. Army veteran and member of the New York State Police since June, 1967, pleaded innocent at arraignment. He is accused of shooting Stephen Fleming at the Hilliard home.

Found at Trooper's Home

The body of the victim, who had been shot in the chest, was found in the trooper's residence Monday, according to state police, investigators from Troop K Headquarters in Hawthorne, where Hilliard had been assigned.

Authorities disclosed no motive for the shooting pending further investigation by top officers.

Supt. of State Police William E. Kirwan ordered the accused trooper suspended indefinitely. Hilliard was off duty at the time of the alleged murder.

Hilliard figured in a bizarre bank robbery last August in Vista, during which the trooper said he was kidnaped and stuffed in the trunk of a police car which had been assigned to him. The trooper's car was used by the bank robbers as the getaway vehicle. It was later found and Hilliard was released.

Hilliard is a native of Brooklyn. He attended the Brooklyn Technical High School. He is not married.

Liquor Factor In Two Arrests By City Police

KINGSTON

Police investigated a complaint early Sunday that someone was shooting a gun in the vicinity of 3 North Front Street, and on arrival authorities found Jose DeJesus, 26, of 304 Clinton Avenue, brandishing a knife.

DeJesus also appeared to be under the influence of intoxicating beverages. He was taken to police headquarters and booked for possessing a dangerous knife, and public intoxication. He was scheduled to appear in City Court to answer the charges. Police found no gun.

City police also arrested Lucien Sawyer Jr., 41, of 1500 Nedro Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., as the result of another incident which involved a traffic accident. He was charged with resisting arrest and public intoxication. He was committed pending hearing in city court.

Nabbed on Warrant

David Jackson, 20, of 47 Sycamore Street, was cited by police Monday for failure to appear in City Court to face vehicle and traffic charges. A warrant had been issued.

William C. Brennan, 26, of 622 Broadway, was summoned for speeding, failure to produce a registration certificate, and not having an inspection sticker for his car.

Charges, Counter Charges Spice Race in Rosendale

ROSENDALE

The mayoralty race in the village of Rosendale is going right down to the wire with eleventh hour charges and counter charges.

Both Democratic Mayor Joseph S. Reid and Republican Independent candidate William P. Curran came out with Election Day statements on their positions regarding the "fiscal responsibility" of the present administration, one of the prime issues in the campaign.

Many Solutions

As mayor of the village for the past two years Reid defended the Democratic administration noting when it first took office "we were confronted with many problems. Solutions have been realized to many of them."

Charging that Curran "had never bothered to check official records before making his erroneous statements," Reid said the bonded indebtedness of the village when he took office was $53,000. "At present, indebtedness is $132,900.

For the additional $79,000 in bonded indebtedness the village has acquired a new fire truck, flood control is underway and a new water source has been acquired."

In referring to Curran statements on the village dump, Reid said the "exact amount" spent by the village was $1,083.49 not the $4,000 or $5,000 claimed by his opponent.

He reviewed the equipment bought and paid for during the present administration, saying "if this is fiscal irresponsibility, then I certainly plead guilty." He said his administration gave more value for the tax dollar and at the same tme cut the tax rate "by in excess of $1 per thousand this year."

Bankruptcy Course

Curran, running a second time for the village mayor post, charged that the village is on "a collision course with bankruptcy."

Referring to a financial statement issued Friday by Reid as "incomplete," Curran said that based on the figures submitted "it is evident that the present administration in the past two years has exceeded its budget by over $10,000 which is more than one-third of the amount of money raised by taxes, even though the administration last year in an off-election year, raised taxes by over 20 per cent."

Curran said he based his analysis on the fact that when Mayor Reid took office, there were "no short term notes or loans at the bank or 'tax anticipation notes.'"

He noted that the bonded indebtedness of the village "has been increased more than three times what it was two years ago when Mayor Reid took office and is over 50 per cent more than it has ever been in the history of Rosendale."

Citing other fiscal figures, Curran concluded that the "issues in this campaign have been entirely the record of the administration. It is the position of myself as candidate for Mayor, that the adminstration has been fiscally irresponsible and is on a collision course with bankruptcy and the statement on the eve of the election that taxes will be lowered is certainly evidence of the credibility gap that has existed."

The contest will be decided by the village voters at the polls today. Voting is taking place from noon to 9 p.m.

Deputy Hurt In Auto Crash

STONY HOLLOW

James Freese, 24, of Tillson, a deputy with the County Sheriff's Department was treated and released from Benedictine Hospital this morning following a highway mishap on Route 28.

Deputy Freese reported he was proceeding west on Route 28 in a patrol car when a truck he was following stopped short to make a lefthand turn near Stony Hollow. The deputy swerved to the right to avoid hitting the truck and struck a guard rail on the shoulder of the highway.

Freese was taken to the hospital by Doctors Ambulance and was released after treatment. The mishap occurred about 7:40 a. m.

Nixon, Red Premier Propose Arms Treaty

GENEVA (UPI)—President Nixon and Soviet Premier Alexei A. Kosygin today jointly proposed a new international arms control treaty to prohibit the installation of nuclear weapons on the floor of the ocean.

The joint proposals were submitted as the 17-nation disarmament conference resumed negotiations after an eight-month recess at 3:07 p.m. (9:07 a.m. EST) today.

Nixon, in a letter delivered by Gerard C. Smith, the new chief of the U.S. delegation, also expressed interest in several other possible new agreements with the Russians. They included extending the partial nuclear test ban to cover underground testing and a cutoff in the production of fissionable material for nuclear weapons.

Western officials believed the ocean floor proposal held the best chance for an early agreement with Moscow. The fact Moscow introduced a similar plan today enhanced this belief.

Suspect Motorcycle Rivalry

Identify Man's Body Found Amid Rubbish

NEW YORK (UPI)—A man who was burned to death in what police suspected may have been a rivalry between two motorcycle gangs was identified today as Ray Ed White, 20, of Dayton, Ohio.

Identification through an FBI fingerprint check came almost 24 hours after White's charred body, bound and trussed, was found amid burning rubbish in a tenement in Manhattan's nippie-haunted East Village.

He apparently had been bound with a rope from around his neck to his hands tied behind him and then sprayed with a flammable liquid and set afire.

In policy custody were 14 men and five women described as members of the Alien Nomads motorcycle gang. They were arrested on narcotics charges but police suspected that White's slayer or slayers might be among them.

The majority of those arrested ranged in age from 18 to 21, and the bearded men, according to police, wore jackets of the Alien Nomads.

Police speculated that the slaying was related to rivalry between the Nomads and another hard-riding group, the Pagans. They said, however, they were not sure if White was a member of either group.

Dem Caucus In Gardiner

GARDINER

A Democratic caucus will be held in Election Districts I and II in the Town of Gardiner Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Tuthilltown Hall.

George Majestic, Democratic town chairman, said the purpose of the meeting is to elect three delegates to the unofficial Democratic County Convention, March 26 at the Court House in Kingston.

The convention is being held to nominate candidates for the general election in November including county clerk, coroner and county legislators.

Only enrolled Democrats of the Election District may vote at the caucus.

Girl on Bike Struck by Car

HIGHLAND

Betty Storey, 9, of 14 New Paltz Road, Highland, was injured at 4:50 p. m. Monday when the bicycle she was riding was hit by a car on Phillips Road at the junction of New Paltz Road.

Vincent Cristaldi, 29, of this community, was driving his car along the road when the girl on the bicycle entered the highway and was hit by the motor vehicle. She escaped with contusions of the right leg, State Police said.

Desertion Charge

Karl Thure Olsson, 19, of 234 Main Street, was arrested Monday by Kingston police, who had received an Armed forces absentee order charging the youth with U. S. Army desertion. Olsson was held for military authorities.

Homicide Charge

High school student Richard Berkley, 16, is booked in connection with the fatal shooting of a commuter train brakeman late Saturday. Police in New York said Berkley turned himself in and admitted firing the shot that killed brakeman George V. Burns, 49, who fell to the tracks as his Penn-Central train pulled into the 125th Street station. According to police, the youth said he had been shooting at street lights from the roof of a tenement near the station. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Most of the Doves in Senate Give Administration More Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most Senate doves are hanging back, apparently willing to give President Nixon more time to try to end the Vietnam war, as J. W. Fulbright and George S. McGovern revive the attacks that helped bring down Lyndon Johnson.

McGovern, South Dakotan who sought the Democratic presidential nomination as a peace candidate, said Monday that Nixon may be sowing seeds of "national tragedy and certainly of personal political disaster" by continuing Johnson policies.

Fulbright, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, opened up last week, ending a nearly complete Senate silence on Vietnam since the Republican President took office.

But McGovern made his attack to an almost empty Senate and, significantly, no covey of doves showed up to discuss his suggestion that stepped up U.S. military activities in the past five months may have triggered the current enemy offensive.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Whip Edward M. Kennedy were quick to disassociate themselves from McGovern's stand.

Both are standing fast against what they regard as premature criticism of Nixon. They feel it could tag the Democrats with the charge they are playing politics with the war.

Mansfield told reporters that those who criticize the President's course—as the Democratic leader frequently did when Johnson was in the White House—should remember that Nixon inherited the Vietnam war.

The Montana Senator said that while Johnson's policies are still in effect, Nixon should be given leeway and flexibility to develop his own.

Demo Caucus In 11th Friday

KINGSTON

The Democratic committeemen of the new 11th Ward have scheduled a Democratic Caucus Friday, March 21 at 8 p. m. in the Cornell Fire Station on Abeel Street. The new 11th Ward is comprised of the old 7th and 13th Wards combined.

Delegates to both the Kingston and Ulster County Democratic conventions will be selected. In addition to the regular delegates alternaties will be elected. This year the aldermanic candidates from each ward will seek election. The 11th Ward is presently being served by Alderman Edward Norton who, on the basis of his fine record in the Common Council, will undoubtedly be nominated for another term.

All residents of the ward interested in a Democratic victory are invited to attend. However, only residents of the 11th Ward who are enrolled in the Democratic Party are entitled to vote at the caucus.

Another Fact Emerges From Pueblo Hearing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The admiral in charge of the Pacific when the Pueblo was captured apparently suggested, but did not recommend, a course of "positive action" against North Korea.

That fact emerged Monday from a House armed services subcommittee hearing into the seizure of the spy ship. Adm. Ulysses S. Grant Sharp, in charge of U.S. military forces in the Pacific at the time of the Pueblo incident Jan. 23, 1968, was asked if he initiated "a request to take positive action."

He said he did, but added the details of the "positive action" were secret.

Later, he elaborated when the subcommittee met behind closed doors. After the session, a subcommittee member, who asked to remain anonymous, said Sharp did not endorse any specific proposal. He said Sharp merely made a suggestion to the Joint Chiefs of Staff on what military action was possible.

And, the congressman added, Sharp was fully aware of the serious consequences that could follow military action against North Korea.

Sharp, questioned by reporters, would not clarify what he meant by "positive action"—or whether he originally requested or suggested it without endorsement.

The subcommittee will continue its Pueblo hearings later this week.

List Deadline For Pool Money

RED HOOK

March 31 has been set as the deadline for making final payments by subscribers to the Red Hook Recreational Park Swimming pool.

The special fund drive three-year plan for $100 to which 380 families subscribed, was to be paid within nine months after the drive concluded last July.

Use of the 250,000-gallon pool will be confined to paid-up subscribers and their guests and will be open free during morning periods each week.

Of the $53,000 pledged last spring, $33,000 is presently in the park account. Part of the $20,000 is attributed to business and individual donations not restricted by the nine-month limitation.

Prosecution Is Questioning Sirhan Trial Psychologist

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The prosecution today sought to impeach the reliability of a psychologist who testified Sirhan B. Sirhan was a paranoid personality easily thrown out of touch with reality.

The state prepared for the jury a copy of a summation by Dr. Martin M. Schorr of Sirhan's motivation and excerpts from a book written by a New York psychiatrist describing another case in almost exactly the same words.

Deputy Dist. Atty Lynn Compton told newsmen it was obvious Schorr had copied passages from the book and passed them off as his own.

The book by Dr. James A. Brussel, "Casework of a Crime Psychiatrist," related a boy's hatred of his father turning against someone else. Schorr wrote in a letter Sirhan's hatred of his father was turned against Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Schorr was to take the witness stand today, and be asked to explain the striking similarity in words and phrases.

Defense attorney Emile Zola Berman told newsmen he saw nothing wrong with the psychologist "borrowing" words from another psychiatric expert if he felt they expressed his feelings better than he could have done himself.

Prosecution attorney John Howard poined out Schorr had been asked if "he had written" the passage about Sirhan's hatred for his father and that he replied "Yes, I did"—with no mention of the Brussel book.

The prosecution planned to put Schorr through severe cross examination in an effort to discredit his lengthy testimony about Sirhan's abnormalities and inability to premedidate Kennedy's murder.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my mother, Mary Elizabeth Wright.
You are not forgotten loved one
Or will you ever be
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.

We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more
Your loving smile, your gentle face
No one can fill your vacant place.

Son, LEROY

Memoriam

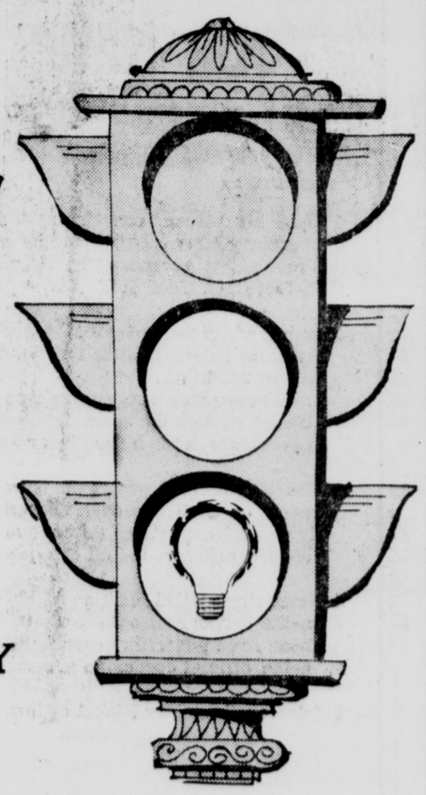

In loving memory of our dear husband, father and son-in-law Winchell (Wink) Atkins who passed away one year ago March 18, 1968.

We had no chance to say good-bye,
But loving memories never die.
In our hearts a memory is kept
Of a loving husband and father we'll never forget,
It's only a grave, but still needs care,
For the one we love is sleeping there.
Our lips cannot tell how we miss you,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say;
God alone knows how we miss you,
In a home that is lonesome today.

Wednesday Program

Special for the 'Seniors'

KINGSTON — A special program has been set for the Senior Citizens Drop-In lounge at the Salvation Army, 94 North Front Street for Wednesday, March 19 at 2 p. m., according to a statement issued by Alexander Yosman coordinator of the Senior Citizens Advisory Council.

The Lounge is sponsored by the local Salvation Army, under the direction of Captain James N. Shotzberger with the cooperation of the Senior Citizens Advisory Council.

Captain Shotzberger advised that the Lounge is hoping to gain the services of a volunteer who will serve as program director and hostess. The showing of a film with refreshments following the program is planned for the first meeting. This will present an oppportunity for senior citizens to get better acquainted with each other and get an idea of the many functions being planned for the weeks ahead.

Captain Shotzberger said that at the start the program will be held Wednesday afternoons, but following the initial phase, it is hoped that programs can be conducted on a two-a-week basis if enough interest is shown. In order to get a better idea of the types of programs that would be of interest to the Sennor Citizen, a questionnaire will be distributed at this meeting for comments. "By analyzing the results of this questionnaire," Captain Shotzberger said, "he hoped that a program director would be able to put together a weekly program geared solely to the interest of the Senior Citizen."

Yosman and Captain Shotzberger urge all senior citizens of the area to attend this social gathering.

War on Cosa Nostra

Senator John L. McClellan has returned to the wars against crime. Two names come to mind when we think of Senate efforts to curb crime. One is the late Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. The other is McClellan of Arkansas.

McClellan called some of the most notorious criminals in the country to the bar of a Senate committee he headed the last time he started his war on crime. Now, he has again sounded the tocsin. His target is no less than Cosa Nostra, the infamous syndicate that heads organized crime in this country.

In a long and detailed speech, McClellan reviewed the organization and operation of the criminal syndicate called the Cosa Nostra. He listed its leaders, or heads of its "families" in 22 cities in this country. He charged the organization drains billions of dollars a year from the American economy.

In seven years, McClellan charged, the Justice Department "has been able to bring to book" only 147 members of the Cosa Nostra out of an estimated 5,000 in its ranks.

It will take years to repair the impact of the decline in federal activities in the fight on organized crime, McClellan fears. But he is heartened that Attorney General John N. Mitchell "has promised to reverse the policy of his predecessor and use wiretapping authority to fight organized crime."

As chairman of the Judiciary subcommittee on criminal laws and procedures, McClellan has prepared a package of crime-fighting proposals. He has called a hearing on these proposals beginning March 18.

When McClellan goes after something, he raises the dust. He gives every indication of a real big drive on crime again. His program is well rounded, from a stronger grand jury system and immunity for self-incrimination for cooperating witnesses, to harsher prison terms, up to 30 years for habitual criminals. More luck to him.

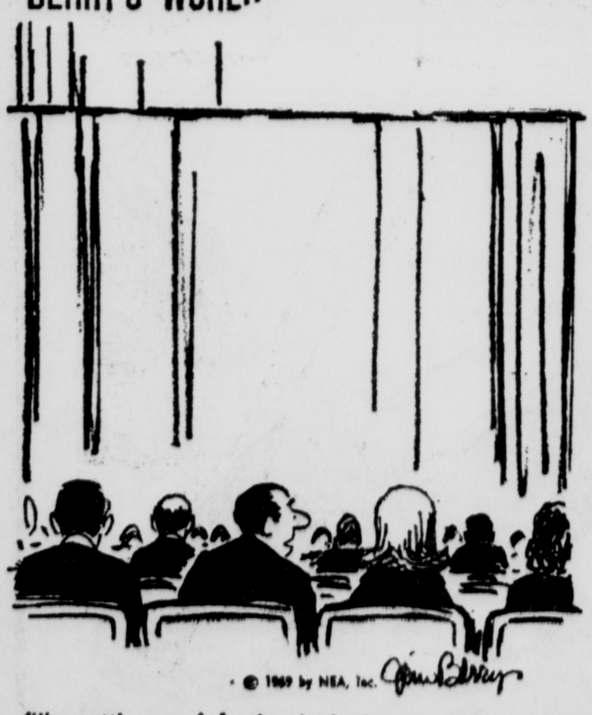

How to Prevent Burglary

Within 48 hours of a burglary, a four-man unit of detectives visits the place that has been burglarized, makes a security check and tells the owner what he might need in the way of locks, bolts, alarm systems, lighting, gates and bars. That is the way the nation's first municipal project to help prevent burglaries began in New York City last week.

Mayor John V. Lindsay initiated the project with a group of detectives making the inspection, after a delicatessen was entered through a back door and $700 was stolen. The visit marked the start of Mr. Lindsay's burglary prevention project, through which he hopes to educate merchants on the hows and wheres of security. Demonstrations will be conducted by 12 detectives working as four-man units in three burglar-prone precincts. The project was proposed by the Mayor's Criminal Justice Coordinating Council, which he set up to plan crime control measures.

Burglars seem to have a penchant for returning again and again to the scene of their successes. The recommendations after immediate inspection, if followed by the victims, should foil subsequent visits even if it does not prevent the original robbery. Eight weeks later, the detectives will return to see what steps the merchant has taken to protect himself. Judging from the first victim, cooperation should be quick and enthusiastic. A much better drill would be for citizen-police to be trained to catch the prowlers before they strike the first time.

ABM Modified Program Could Avoid Nuclear War

WASHINGTON — The issue of the anti-ballistic-missile system is far from settled. Congress, however, after after reflecting on what a "do nothing" alternative could mean, will eventually approve President Nixon's request for a relatively smaller program than the Johnson administration proposed.

For the Senate and House to do otherwise than endorse the plan would scare the public. A vote of "no confidence" in the President's project, given at this time, would encourage the communists to press forward with their military expansion and take advantage of what would appear to be great discord on the defense policies of the United States.

Support by Congress at this time, on the other hand, could prove a constructive move. It would indicate clearly to both the Soviet Union and Red China that the American people will not take chances and are convinced that the sound policy for the United States to pursue is to build a defense mechanism against missile attack while continuing to seek arms agreements calling for mutual restraint by the major powers.

Mr. Nixon wants to negotiate from a position of strength. If the House and Senate disagreed with such a course, this attitude could arouse a feeling of insecurity throughout the country. Dissenters in Democratic ranks in Congress would hardly wish to take responsibility for producing that result. A majority will inevitably perceive the sensitivity of the nation to important steps in national-defense policy. For certainly, out of a budget of 18.6 billion dollars a year, the expenditure of one or two billions annually for this purpose would be favored by the voters rather than to take risks with the security of the United States. It is estimated that the anti-ballistic-missile system could, in case of an enemy attack, save 20 to 30 million lives.

President Nixon reasons that a resolute course, adopted now, would be noted abroad and that changes can be made from time to time through the "annual review" promised by the administration.

In reality, the President has taken a step which, in the long run, could avoid the provocation of a nuclear war. While many Americans may not understand all the technical factors involved in the deployment of an anti-ballistic-missile system, the Soviets and the Red Chinese will get the main point — namely, that the United States intends to spend whatever is necessary to protect its population by providing a system which deters nuclear attack.

The President has made it clear that his policy is solely concerned with defense. He says the modified program will give the Soviet Union "even less reason to view our defense efforts as an obstacle to talks." He adds:

"Moreover, I wish to emphasize that in any arms limitations talks with the Soviet Union, the United States will be fully prepared to discuss limitations on defensive as well as offensive weapons systems."

The President will continue to stress the fact that his whole program is based upon deterring an enemy from launching any attack. He feels it is necessary to protect enough of the deterrent apparatus so that the moves to be made by this country in retaliation against an attack "will be of such magnitude that the enemy would think twice before launching a first strike." The President expects the Soviet Union to "recognize very clearly the difference between a defensive posture and an offensive posture."

There is plenty of room for variations and changes in the President's plan as circumstances may warrant. He said, for instance, that the "safeguard system" to which he has given his support "will be implemented, not according to some fixed, theoretical schedule but in a manner clearly related to our periodic analysis of the threat." Modifications would be made "as the threat changes, either through negotiations or through unilateral actions by the Soviet Union or Communist China."

On the whole, an analysis of Mr. Nixon's latest statements shows that he is deeply concerned, first of all, with the security of the United States and that he does not intend to allow the possibility of political schisms at home to affect his judgment when he prepares to make significant decisions in the international field.

Arbiters of Your Credit: Fair Game for U. S. Reins

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The time clearly has arrived for the creation of a federal watchdog commission to exercise powerful and aggressively vigilant control over the nation's credit bureaus and credit-extending agencies.

These "private" bureaus and agencies, through their command over an individual citizen's credit standing and his opportunity to use credit in major transactions affecting his life, are in plain fact employing power which is governmental in scope.

They have, indeed, far more business financial affairs than the U. S. Internal Revenue Service normally applies in its congressionally empowered inquires into citizens' income tax returns.

A credit bureau, operating in misty anonymity most of the time, may determine whether you can buy a house or a car, float a loan to pay off crushing medical expense, expand your activities, undertake certain necessary travel.

It is your "credit rating" which decides all this, and whether or not you can get general or special credit cards and develop charge accounts with retail stores and various other business establishments.

Your "rating" is presumed to be determined by your past "credit record" — the available evidence as to how you paid your bills, how you met bank or car or other loan payments, etc.

Unhappily, credit bureaus across the country make many minor and some very serious errors in compiling this evidence. The horror stories are legion, compiled more and more frequently by highly reputable newspapers, pieced together in endless living room conversations where individuals compare notes.

In theory you are supposed to be able to gain access to the credit bureau's file on your credit performance if any difficulty arises. Actually, as many specifically documented cases demonstrate, your rating may suddenly plummet to zero and you may find it impossible, or nearly so, to learn why.

Letters to credit bureaus and credit-extending agencies go unanswered for long periods or are never answered. If you can bring off a personal visit with an agency official, which is no mean feat, you may be smothered in vague replies.

In many instances, the agency treatment of the inquiring citizen is grossly arrogant, indifferent, negligent and downright incompetent.

Sometimes a bureau, goaded into unaccustomed frankness, acknowledges its capacity for error and even says that certain matters of credit performance are "difficult to verify."

From the public's standpoint, failure on this score is totally unacceptable. There can be nothing too difficult to verify when a person's whole financial status is at stake. And NO serious error is permissible, for the same reason.

With power goes responsibility. The responsibility of these agencies is to be absolutely correct, even if they have to recheck their records 20 times. And evidently a government commission is now needed to see that they do just exactly that.

Furthermore, such a commission should be charged with seeing that their often inhuman, impersonal treatment of citizens is completely curbed. The experiences some people have had make the so-called "impersonality" of today's huge university look like an exercise in free love.

If federal tax investigators judge your income tax returns faulty or fradulent, and you dispute their findings, you have recourse first to the tax court and then to the general courts to seek reversal of the verdict.

No such protection exists for you in the credit field. The citizen should not be forced to spend time and money to prove errors by self-appointed private arbiters of your credit. A government commission should put the burden of accuracy fully upon them.

Federal City College Needs Strong President to Save It

WASHINGTON — The only thing that can save the Federal City College from being a tragic failure is to persuade former Sen. Wayne Morse, a founder of the college, to become its president.

Morse, who took seriously his job on the District of Columbia Committee when Sen. Lyndon Johnson demoted him to that unpopular committee, helped conceive the Federal City College as a means of educating young Negroes.

In the last decade, Washington has become nearly 60 per cent Negro, and much of its younger generation has lacked qualifications to enter the top universities in the capital. So the federal City College was established on the pattern of community colleges of New York, California and other states.

So far, however, the college has been nothing short of a catastrophe. Its weak president, Frank Farner, a Morse recommendation from Oregon, lacked experience in handling either Negroes or big city problems. He surrendered authority to the faculty, which proceeded to adopt a self-perpetuation resolution that they could not be fired. The recommended curriculum includes stick fighting, karate and so much emphasis on black studies that 40 per cent of the college would be devoted to semi-segregationist courses.

Obviously this will not train young Negroes to play a leadership role in the nation's capital.

In addition, there are complaints that more faculty members than students play hookey from classes.

If the District of Columbia is to decrease its escalating crime rate, let alone attain home rule or approach self-government, it must increase the number of its educated Negro citizens. For this, a successful Federal City College is essential.

Sen. Morse, defeated by a slender margin last November, is co-author of the historic education bills passed by the Johnson administration. He is former dean of the University of Oregon Law School and one of the earliest crusaders for civil rights. His credentials as a champion of the Negro are unimpeachable.

New Governor of the Virgins

President Nixon has made two appointments which may slightly tarnish the Billy Graham morality he has been promoting in the White House.

His nominee for governor of the Virgin Islands, Peter Bove, was investigated by the Interior Department during the Eisenhower administration for allegedly making "improper advances" to girls in his Comptroller's Office in the Virgin Islands. After the investigation, then-Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton wrote to the father of one of the girls on July 9, 1959: "There had been weaknesses in the management of the Comptroller's Office. I have every reason to believe that improvements will be made."

To head the Small Business Administration, the President appointed Hilary Sandoval who has been under attack by the Citizens Committee for Decent Literature in El Paso, Tex., for distributing "nudie" magazines and "pornographic" literature throughout West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Less than a week before he left for Washington, he was called in by the El Paso police to answer complaints about some paperback books he was distributing.

Both men, when queried by this column, denied any improper conduct.

"I had to let three or four girls go," Bove said. "An Interior Department man came down and looked into their complaints. But there were no improper advances."

Sandoval, a wholesale distributor of magazines, explained that he distributes only magazines and paperbacks that the Post Office has ruled are mailable. He has neither the staff nor the qualifications, he said, to review and censor all the publications he distributes. If the authorities question the propriety of any publication, as they did a few weeks ago, he always withholds it from the stands.

The Interior Department's investigation of Bove was instigated by Alton Adams, dean of the Virgin Islands press corps, whose daughter, Gwendolen, had been one of the complainants. Adams told this column that Bove had made "improper proposals" to his daughter and other girls in the office.

"It was all borne out by the investigation," he said.

The 63-year-old Bove, a bachelor until his marriage several months ago to a widow who owns a liquor store on the islands, continued to serve as comptroller until four months ago.

There were complaints from Virgin Islands businessmen, too, that Bove doesn't pay his bills. He is alleged to have refused to pay a $39.75 bar bill at the Virgin Islands Hilton and an $89 travel bill with Caribair Airlines.

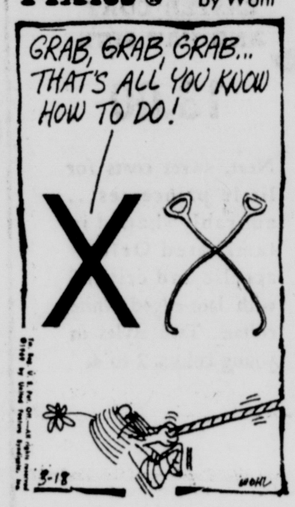

"I don't owe one penny in Vermont or in the Virgin Islands," declared Bove, who ran unsuccessfully for governor of Vermont before he went to the Virgin Islands. He said the Caribair bill was a "disputed charge."

In El Paso, the Citizens Committee for Decent Literature has been battling for 10 years to stop Sandoval from distrubuting lascivious literature. Their objective, said a spokesman, was to keep pornography out of the hands of youngsters under 17.

"We have not had the kind of cooperation we should have expected from Mr. Sandoval," said Dr. Robert Obeirne, former head of the committee. Charges brought by the group against one of Sandoval's distributors, however, were dismissed without a conviction.

The appointment of Bove and Sandoval has raised some eyebrows in Republican circles.

Henry J. Taylor Says

Moscow-Peking Propaganda

Central Intelligence Agency information has now determined the true scope, strategy and intensity of the Soviet-Red China frontier clashes. In addition, it finds a Soviet build-up of 22 divisions, more than doubling the previous deployment. The CIA also finds Soviet missiles moved into the Khabarovsk area. This is the U.S.S.R. command headquarters.

But, first, some debunking of the Moscow-Peking propaganda is in order.

Three treaties figure conveniently in Mao Tse-tung's bombastics.

Russia expanded eastward beyond the Urals to the Pacific seaboard in the mid-17th Century. A fractured China recognized the conquest by the Treaty of Nerchinsk in 1689. This defined as Russsian all the seized territory except part of China's Amur Basin.

Then Russia turned south. The Russians built Vladivostok as their own port. That locked China from the Sea of Japan. China recognized this in the Treaty of Aigun in 1885.

Next Russia expanded into China's Turkestan (today's Sinkiang) Province in an immense Central Asian seizure of about 300,000 square miles. China recognized this in the Treaty of Peking in 1860.

The result is the longest national boundary in the world. It runs 4,150 miles — something like the distance from New York to Honooulu.

Mao Tse-tung, making political hay at home, is now claiming that all three treaties are invalid, pounding home to the Chinese people that all three were forced on a China too weak to resist. Moscow gives an outraged heave-ho to the contention and calls it "merely the ravings of the Mao clique."

Mao's military position is much weaker than widely supposed. And the widely accepted idea we hear that Russia fears Red China on its long border simply is not shared by military authorities in our country or abroad. This important misconception is a basic fallacy — and old wives' tale — and thus so are the popular conclusions drawn from it.

War starts with terrain. The Soviet Manchurian axis for its position opposite China is Khabarovsk, 400 miles north of Vladivostok. The border incidents are concentrated in Heilungkiang Province on the Manchurian Plateau and along the Ussuri River, which is a part of the border.

This country is flat. Even the Ural Mountains, about which we hear so much, are mostly only about 400 feet high. Mao has nearly unlimited numbers of his army. But it is a 1918 hay foot-straw-foot army, moving on its feet and living on the land — an army of foot soliders and rifles.

The CIA finds that nine of the Soviet's 22 dividions are mechanized. The terrain is ideal for their deployment. We hear much about Soviet ballistic missiles and bombers. But the Soviet, as well, has a large and extremely effective tactical air force. Mao has none.

The highly publicized idea (and the conclusions drawn from it) that the U. S. S. R. fears Mao on this border vanishes like a pricked balloon in the face of actual conditions. Mao cannot threaten Russia by marching a hay-foot-straw-foot board across flat, open country, stretching from horizon to horizon, against mechanized divisions and a tactical air force of immense power. As the men in the Kremlin well know, this simply is not in the cards, our popular misimpressions notwithstanding.

If the Soviet fears anything, it is Mao's nearby and growing atomic capability. In the debate about Russia's anti-missile defenses and whether we should duplicate them here, it may be easy to forget that these Soviet defenses have an immediate purpose as a protection against Mao Tse-tung Unlike the border-troop situation, close-at-hand Chinese missiles do worry the Kremlin.

Our immense atomic force could swamp the Soviet anti-missile network. But Mao's limited atomic capability gives the Soviet construction a genuine validity.

If these latest and largest border clashes are different from the many earlier ones, as indicated, the real question that arises is: Who is provoking whom?

Mao can do the shouting and the talking and street-demonstrating, and has done so for a long time. But if anybody is actually picking a fight in this situation the weight of evidence would be that the one who would pick a fight as a precaution against the future is the U.S.S.R.

High School Band

Editor, The Freeman

Will you kindly publish the following in your paper:

I would like to take this opportunity to express congratulations to Mr. Marlin Morrette, Conductor of the Kingston High School Band for an excellent performance so capably performed in presenting Friday Evening's Band Concert at Kingston High School Auditorium.

Fully realizing the hours of work and practice which was necessarily put forth in order to present such an outstanding concert, each and every participant should feel rewarded.

Outstanding was the narration "Ceremony of Allegiance", as was the rendition "America—Our Heritage."

All parents present should be extremely proud as they sat and looked at the children assembled on that stage.

In closing, I would like to personally congratulate each and every member of the Kingston High School Band. It was a pleasure to see such a clean-cut group of teenagers participating in such an orderly fashion and for providing an evening of entertainment which should be long remembered.

Thank you.

Very truly yours,

High School Racial Brawl, 11 Students Are Injured

By United Press International

A Chicago-area high school was closed today after 11 students were injured in a racial brawl. Three-hundred students, whites and Negroes, rampaged through the cafeteria and book store of the University of Houston Monday.

A strike by militant black high and junior high school students in Los Angeles lost some support when teachers who had refused to cross picket lines at a junior high school voted to return to classrooms today.

Classes were canceled Monday at the State University of New York's Binghamton campus and Valparaiso (Ind.) University as seminars were held to discuss campus problems.

Settlement Reached

A settlement was reached Monday night between 250 black students and the Southeast campus of Chicago City College. Classes will resume Wednesday, officials said. Today, classes for the school's 3,165 students will again be held in museums, parks and other locations.

Black students, who had announced they were withdrawing from Duke University in Durham, N.C., said Monday they were staying, at least until the end of the semester. "We decided the university would be benefitting more from our leaving than we would be," a spokesman said.

Fighting broke out Monday between Negro and white students in Bloom Township High School in Chicago Heights, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. Eleven students were injured and today's classes were canceled.

School Supt. Richard E. Barnhart said fighting erupted in the cafeteria, and in the hallways and outside the school after the cafeteria was cleared. Chicago Heights and Cook County sheriff's police quelled the disturbances. There were no arrests.

Causes Damage

At the University of Houston, 300 white and Negro students threw chairs through cafeteria windows and tossed books and card files on the floor of the bookstore, causing $2,000 to $3,000 damage.

At other campuses:

Wisconsin—Fines of $125 and costs were levied against 91 Oshkosh State University students Monday after they pleaded no contest to charges of unlawful assembly, stemming from a destructive demonstration Nov. 21.

California—The state Senate overwhelmingly approved a four-bill package designed to deal strongly with "anarchy and chaos" on campuses.

Washington, D.C.,—S.I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College, said after an hour in the White House President Nixon favors leaving campus disruptions to local authorities, but federal money should be denied to convicted agitators.

DWI Charge For Paltz Woman

NEW PALTZ

Rose Incorvaia, 43, of Main Street, this village, was cited at 2:15 a. m. today by Highland State Police on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Troopers G. P. Rebhan and B. D. Mitchell arraigned the woman before Town Justice Rexford Schneider after she submitted to a chemical test at Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie. She posted $90 bail and was released pending a hearing on Friday, March 21.

The arrest was made on Route 299 in this township.

Day Care Center Possibility Is Discussed

RED HOOK

The possibility of a day care center for the Red Hook area was discussed at a meeting this week of representatives of churches in the community.

Leading the discussion were James Horn and Mrs. Paul Greenfield of the Poughkeepsie Neighborhood Service Organization.

A steering committee was organized to begin contacting residents and formulate a composite picture of the interests of the Red Hook area.

It hopes to hear suggestions for the direction of the endeavor which is intended to meet the needs of all ages and social-economic levels.

Interested persons or organizations wishing to help establish a center are asked to call Mrs. John Smithers, the Rev. Russell Sargent or the Rev. Leonard Neils.

A public meeting will be held April 9 at 8 p.m. at the Methodist Church.

Truck Toting Beeswax Afire On Thruway

GUILDERLAND, N. Y. (AP) — A tractor-trailer carrying beeswax caught fire early today on the Thruway near this Albany suburb.

Police said no one was injured. The trailer was destroyed.

The driver, Joseph Ayoub of Yorkville, told police he detached the cab from the trailer when he spotted smoke and flames.

Ayoub owns the cab. The trailer belonged to the A.F.D. Trucking Co. of Syracuse.

The accident occurred about a mile east of exit 25.

OIL HEATED HOMES?

Ask Builder BENSON A. KROM of Kingston, N. Y. . . .

"No Greater Asset Than ...an OIL Heated Home"

Says Builder

Benson Krom

"After 15 years' experience in home building, it is my opinion that there is no greater asset for the homeowner than to have the comfort, safety and dependability of an oil-heated home."

Oil heat is clean. It's economical. And, it' as modern as tomorrow. Maybe you should look into oil heat, too. There are plenty of advantages for the builder and the home owner.

Lydia Rekkerth Takes Vows

MRS. DANIEL D. VAN VALKENBURG

Miss Lydia Rekkerth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Rekkerth, 76 Lafayette Road, Rochester, became the bride of Daniel David Van Valkenburg, King's Court Manor Apartments, Rochester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Van Valkenburg, Shandaken, on March 8, in the Shandaken Methodist Church.

The Rev. Ralph Darmstadt officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. George L. Marinor Jr., organist, accompanied Mrs. Carlton Buley who sang traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white princess gown with a train. A white Dior bow held her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade of white carnations and roses.

Miss Ellen Van Valkenburg, sister of the bridegroom, Kingston, served as maid of honor. She wore a pale blue princess style gown, fashioned with chiffon sleeves. her fingertip tulle veil was held by a matching dior blue bow.

Miss Charlotte Van Valkenburg, sister of the bridegroom, was an attendant. She wore a pink gown styled identically to that of the honor attendant and a pink dior bow served as her headpiece.

Richard Smith, Rochester, served as best man. Edward Ocker II, Albany, was an usher.

After the wedding, a reception for 50 people was given at the Log Cabin, Shandaken.

For her wedding trip to upstate New York, the bride selected a pink ensemble.

The bride attended Cornell University, Ithaca. She is employed by Lincoln Rochester Trust Company. Her husband is a student at University of Rochester.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Valkenburg will reside at King's Court Manor Apartment, Rochester.

Baby Sitting Classes at YW

On Monday, March 24, a six weeks course for baby sitters will begin at the YWCA. Mrs. Hazel D. Castle, R.N., will be the instructor. Mrs. Castle received her R.N. at the Kingston Hospital School of Nursing and has done post graduate work at the Jersey City Medical Center. She was night supervisor and was for a time in charge of pediatrics at Kingston Hospital. Mrs. Castle is now employed by Ferroxcube Corp. as industrial nurse.

Included in the six weeks course will be the basic of baby and child care, home safety essential to baby sitters, the responsibilities of the baby sitter and the responsibilities of the child's parents to the baby sitter. Each session will begin at 7 p.m. at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue, and will probably last 1½ to 2 hours. Girls in the class should be at least 13 years of age and become YWCA members, unless they are currently members. Teenage membership in the YWCA is $1 per year. Call the YWCA to register.

92nd Birthday Cora Rightmyer

On Monday, the Service Club of the First Baptist Church in Kingston met at the home of the Misses Cora and Pearl Rightmyer, 60 Abruyn Street, to celebrate the birthday of Miss Cora Rightmyer who was born 92 years ago on March 9th. Her birthplace was the old Lighthouse located, at that time, at the mouth of the Rondout Creek and the Hudson River.

Mrs. Rightmyer was the recipient of numerous cards, flowers, phone calls and other congratulatory messages, and a most enjoyable evening was spent in looking over many photographs of her birthplace and of the surrounding Hudson River area at that time and in listening to her tell of her childhood there.

Among those attending were the Mmes. Dorcas Woolsey, Beatrice Huston, Grace Winchell, Jean May, Lena DuMond, Irma Nessle, Belle Ferrara, Elizabeth Whitbeck, Edna Tigar, Misses Cora and Pearl Rightmyer, Lucinda Healy, Lillian Healy, Marion Shoemaker and Emma Gumaer.

REHEARSE JEWISH MUSIC — Three soloists rehearse for the second annual concert of contemporary Jewish music which will be presented in the Rabbi Bloom Memorial Hall of Temple Emanueal on Firday, March 21 at 8 p. m. The singers are (L-R) Mrs. Cecelia Keehn, soprano; Dr. John Park, tenor, who will conduct and accompany the Temple choir; and Mrs. Barbara Zimet, at the piano. Also singing will be Mrs. Margaret D. Roosa, contralto.

Second Annual Concert At Temple This Friday

The second annual winter concert sponsored by Temple Emanuel will be presented at the Temple on Albany Avenue Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

There will be no admission charged at this concert which is open to the public.

The concert will feature five types of contemporary Jewish music and will be presented by the Temple Choir and guest soloists. The program will be conducted by Dr. John F. Park, organist and choirmaster at the Temple, who is also chairman of the faculty and chairman of the Division of Humanities at Ulster County Community College. Accompanying several of the soloists will be Mrs. Leonard Zimet.

Opening the program will be a group of folk melodies in modern stylized arrangements include "Viglid," a Yiddish Lullaby and the traditional "Hatikvah." The second group of compositions will include several settings passages from the Evening and Morning Sabbath Liturgies. Cantorial type solos will also be heard in settings by contemporary composers of text from the High Holy Day Liturgy and the wedding liturgy.

The concluding work in the program will be a new cantata, "Countdown or Covenant" by Frederick Piket. This work, for soloists, reader, choir, and speaking chorus, has texts selected from the Words of the Prophets as related to 20th century moral issues.

Soloists for Friday's concert will include Cecelia Keehan and Miss Linda von Knoblauch, sopranos; Mrs. Geraldine Nathan and Mrs. Margaret Roosa, contraltos; Mr. Henry Sykes and Mr. Thomas Keehn, tenors; and Mr. Leroy Davis, J. Anthony Hummel, and David Keehn, basses. Dr. Park will also be heard in a cantorial solo, and Leonard Zimet will be the reader for the Piket cantata.

A HAPPY END TO BEDWETTING!

Do parents realize how unhappy their child is who continually wets the bed? Many do not because the child tries to hide the hurt and shame of bedwetting. You'll never know how serious the bedwetting is to your child and yourself until it is ended—then you'll see . . . you will have a happier child and a happier family. If the bedwetting is not caused by organic defect or disease, we can show you a safe and proven way to end it. Walter C. Alvarez, M.D., Professor Emeritus of the Mayo Clinic, recommends our educational program . . . and it has been fully researched and recognized by Joseph G. Molner, M.D., Master of Public Health.

If you sincerely want to end the frustration of bedwetting in your home, complete the coupon. Full information will be mailed to you with no charge or obligation.

'La Mancha' Coming Here on April 14th

By DOROTHY A. NAREL

It was almost too good to be true. The package was marked "special delivery" and it spelled out all the facts but I picked up the telephone Monday morning and double checked it anyway.

Now that I have verbal verification, I can let you in on the secret before some other gossip gets hold of the news and passes it on before I do. The package came from, and the telephone call went to Dick Weaver, the Broadway impressario who has been filling our stockings with theatrical gifts over the past few seasons. He is importing the four year Broadway smash hit musical, "The Man of La Mancha," and will present it on the stage of the Community Theatre on Monday evening, April 14.

The last time I spoke to Dick was a few minutes after the curtain fell on his last presentation, "Hello, Dolly!" which jammed the theatre.

I caught him for a fleeting moment in the manager's office. I asked him, "what are you going to bring us next after "Hello, Dolly?"

"Well," Dick said, "what could I follow that with except maybe a block-buster like 'Man from LaMancha' and I'd need an awwful lot of luck to capture a date this season."

"I hope you have an awful lot of luck," I told him.

It turns out that luck is one thing, but mixed with a little bit of determination it pays off handsome dividends.

Weaver contacted producers Albert W. Selden and Hal James, showed them the box-office statement of "Hello, Dolly!" and convinced them that they should schedule a date in Kingston. That is how Mr. Weaver is able to bring the good news to us.

We owe the Messers. Selden, James and Weaver a vote of thanks, too, for the rest of the good news which came in the package now being relayed to readers in these columns.

When the show arrives here it will have as its stars David Atkinson and Patricia Marand. The pair spent a year and a half in the Broadway production, which is still current on Broadway, a smash hit after three seasons.. It is good to have in the roles of Don Quixote and Aldonza, the man of dreams and the trollop he treats like a lady, performers so well schooled in their roles.

Atkinson previously starred as Phineas Fogg in the Jones Beach production of "Around the World in Eighty Days" and before that he spent seven months starring as Mac the Knife in the seven year run of "Three Penny Opera." On top of that he has appeared with Beatrice Lillie in "Inside U.S.A." and Carole Channing in "The Vamp," plus excursions in "Brigadoon", "Annie Get Your Gun," "Kiss Me Kate" and "Destry Rides Again."

Miss Marand first appeared on Broadway in "Wish You Were Here" and since then has clambered upward in "Pajama Game" and Guys and Dolls."

A top flight cast supports the pair, together with an onstage orchestra which will play, among other things, the show's best known song, "The Impossible Dream."

An impossible dream? Not for Dick Weaver, it isn't. Remember the date. He is presenting "The Man of La Mancha" on Monday, April 14, at the Community theatre.

Will Star in 'La Mancha'

PATRICIA MARAND and DAVID ATKINSON star in the Broadway musical hit" Man of La Mancha" which introduced "The Impossible Dream." The award winning musical comes to the Community Theatre stage on Monday evening April 14. After three seasons, "La Mancha" is still a smash hit on Broadway. Both Marand and Atkinson spent a year and a half in the Broadway production.

NFA Dominates All-DUSO, Name Gilligan

By DENNIS CARO

MIDDLETOWN — Newburgh Free Academy's DUSO and Section 9 champions dominated the All-League selections here Monday, placing two men on each the first and second teams at the annual meeting of the DUSO Sportswriters Association.

Middletown, the second place club that battled the Goldbacks down to the wire in the sectional finals, notched three of the remaining spots in the top ten and Kingston, Monticello and Port Jervis were each represented by one player.

Ken Gilligan, the Maroons' outstanding guard, was the only first team selection not from either Middletown or Newburgh.

Gay Powell, the Goldback superstar who almost singlehandedly destroyed Kingston with his mastery of the 20-foot jumper in the Kate Walton Field House, was named Player of the Year.

Sophomore forward Larry Frazier of Newburgh, Middletown center Paul Hughes and forward Rich Gregory rounded out the first team choices.

Second team selections were Port's Rich Saul and Middie Gary Klingman at guard, Goldback giant Jim Rogers at center and forwards Gene Walker from Monticello and Wade Pittman from Newburgh.

Werner Kolln and Gene Bruno received honorable mention for the Maroons, Randy Thompson and Bill Bertholf notched that honor for Middletown, and Monticello's Marty Levy and Port's Tom McCooey completed the selections.

Gilligan, runner up in the voting for Player of the Year, led the league, in assists according to unofficial statistics, in addition to averaging 17.3 points per game.

A brilliant playmaker, he was one of the few repeaters on this years team, having been a second team selection a year ago.

Powell, rated the best all-around ball-player in the Mid-Hudson Valley, is only a junior, but this was his last year of eligibility. A first-team selection last year as well, he was the subject of controversy when he was dropped from the squad just before the sectionals because he played against the Harlem Wizards in an exhibition.

Hughes drew only an honorable mention last year, a season that was dominated by the brilliance of Monticello's Wille Bradley, but this time around he worked the pivot to perfection in driving the Middies past Kingston and into their sectional berth.

Despite the fact that Port's Tom McCooey was one of the shining stars in the point parade, the less spectacular Saul drew the nod as the Red Raider representative. McCooey, it was felt, took far too many forced shots and did not live up to his potential under the backboards.

Kolln, who averaged 12.4 points per game in league competition, received recognition for his steady play under the backboards and Bruno was named on the basis of ability despite the fact that he sat out the majority of the league season with injuries.

Newburgh Coach Mickey Burkoski, notching his first league title in his three year tenure, was acclaimed coach of the year for his work with the predominantly young Goldback squad.

Three of the Goldies' starting five were sophomores this year, and under Burkoski's tutelage all three won All-DUSO honors.

Don Drysdale Felt Good

By United Press International

Now is the time for all good baseball pitchers to get with it. Only three weeks of training remain, so managers are beginning to demand that their hurlers prove themselves. A few pitchers got good marks Monday, and some didn't.

Don Drysdale, making his first appearance for the Dodgers, whipped through four innings against the New York Yankees, giving up only four hits and one run. LA lost 2-1, but Don said he felt fine and was particularly pleased that he still has his batting eye. His single produced the Dodger run. For New York, there were good grades for all three hurlers — Fred Talbot, Don Nottebart and Joe Verbanic.

Two former Yankees seeking jobs with the new Seattle Pilots had a doubtful time. Jim Bouton was the winner, 8-6, over the Chicago Cubs, but was touched for a home run by rookie Jim Dunegan. Roland Sheldon, working with the Seattle "B" squad against Cleveland, came up with a bases-loaded wild pitch in the 12th inning, allowing the Indians to win the ball game 9-8. Sheldon had come on in the ninth to protect a two-run lead.

The California Angels toyed with the San Diego Padres, 12-6, but when the expansion team acted up in the late innings, old knuckleball artist Hoyt Wilhelm quieted the disturbance.

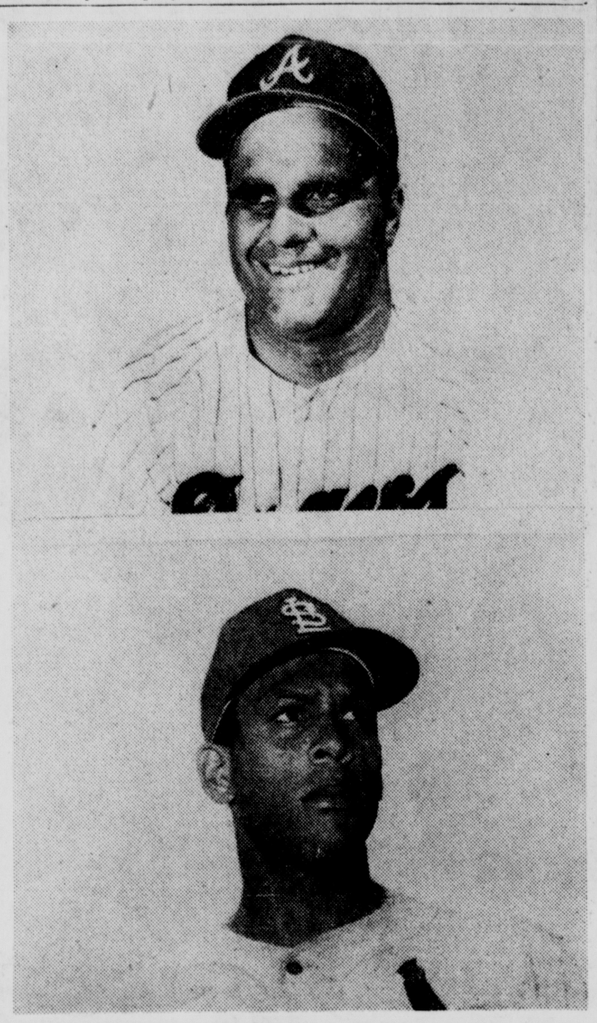

Al Lopez tested three rookie pitchers against Baltimore, and the Orioles won their seventh straight, and eighth of nine, 3-1. Boog Powell socked a two run homer off Jim Magnuson. The others Lopez was trying out were Fred Rath and Paul Edmundson.

The Orioles will face some real pitching Tuesday. The St. Louis Cardinals, rained out two straight days, have decided to let loose with all four of their big guns. Bob Gibson, Nelson Briles, Steve Carlton and Ray Washburn are down to made their spring debut against the Birds.

The Mets dropped in on the Atlanta Braves Monday and won 3-0, with Jim McAndrew working five innings and Don Cardwell completing the shutout.

Cincinnati found the pitching of Senator Jim Hannan to its liking, scoring three runs on three walks, a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly. Washington dropped its 10th of 11 games.

Houston got tidy pitching from Larry Dierker, Danny Coombs and Chuck Marentette in beating the Kansas City Royals, 3-1. A wild pickoff attempt by Royal hurler Roger Nelson contributed to the Astros' win.

TRADE FIGURES — The Atlanta Braves traded Joe Torre (top) to St. Louis Cards for Orlando Cepeda (bottom) Monday. Torre, unsigned, was seeking $65,000 and an apology from GM Paul Richards for disparging statements. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Phoenix's Last Hope: Alcindor

By United Press International

All Phoenix can hope for now is a place in the sun by landing Lew Alcindor.

Phoenix, hopelessly mired in the Western Division cellar, lost its 63rd game of the season Monday night when the Detroit Pistons rode over the Suns 119-95.

On Wednesday, the Suns have a coin-flipping date with Milwaukee as the National Basketball Association's two cellar-dwellers toss for the right to sign UCLA All-America Lew Alcindor.

Phoenix is mindful of San Diego's position last year when the Rockets beat Baltimore in the toss for Elvin Hayes and now are battling for a playoff berth with Chicago in the West. Baltimore, of course, didn't do so badly either as the Bullets took the No. 2 man, Wes Unseld and skyrocketed to the top of the Eastern Division.

Walt Bellamy's 30 point effort in the night's only league action paced Detroit's triumph. Phoenix, hitting only 37 per cent of its floor shots, was led by Stan McKenzie's 18 points.

New Orleans had Los Angeles seeing double Monday night.

Six Buccaneers hit in double figures as New Orleans downed the Stars 118-99 for the club's fifth consecutive American Basketball Association triumph.

James Jones led the New Orleans attack with 26 points and Red Robbins chipped in with 25. Gunner George Stone paced Los Angeles with a 21-point output.

Vet Keglers 4th In ABC Doubles

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Two bowlers who have been competing as a team for 17 years and finished second in the ABC doubles in 1960, landed in fourth place in the doubles Monday in the 66th ABC meet.

Jack Baum, 47, an electrical engineer, and Andy Hudoba, 49, a vending machine operator of Youngstown, Ohio, tallied a 1286. They had games of 477-437-372.

One other big change was made in the day's activity with James Cary of Toledo, Ohio, taking over sixth place in the regular all-events with 1886. His series included 633-639-614.

Cary, 34, is a bowling lanes mechanic in Maumee, Ohio. This is his third ABC and the first time he has been near 1800.

Don Scott of Escanaba, Mich. shot a triplicate of three 172 games. He thought he needed an eight in the final frame to make the triplicate, but missed. But a further audit gave him the necessary 172.

Three Bruins Are All Star Picks

CHICAGO (AP) — Record-breaking center Phil Esposito and defensemen Bobby Orr and Ted Green of the Boston Bruins today were named to Pro Sports Weekly's first annual National Hockey League All-Star team.

Rounding out its first team, the national sports publication had Bobby Hull of Chicago at left wing, Gordie Howe of Detroit at right wing and Glenn Hall of St. Louis at goal.

Esposito recently became the first player in the league's history to score more than 100 points. Hull needs but two more goals to break his own record of 54 set in the 1965-66 season.

Fair Street Five And Trinity Win

Robert Wood (24) and Bob Terwilliger (23) accounted for 47 points between them, as Fair Street Reformed knocked off Church of the Comforter, 59-44, in the YMCA Senior Church basketball league Monday night.

In the companion game, Trinity Methodist blanked St. James in the fourth quarter for a 34-31 win.

Fair Street led Comforter by only a point 19-18, in the first half but broke the game open with a 43-25 margin after the recess. Steve Schabot (18) and Robert Bush (14) led Comforter.

Fred Seeger of St. James hit 13 and Dan Rider and Dave Raucher had 12 each for Trinity.

The scores:

St. James (31) — White 2, Stevens 12, Salzman, J. Rosebrook 2, G. Rosebrook 2, Seeger 13.

Trinity (34) — Feeney 5, Rider 12, Raucher 12, Brown 5, Bittner, Dunn, Benjamin.

Wiley's Wins In YMCA Tilt

POUGHKEEPSIE — Marshall O'Neill, former New Paltz High School and Ulster Community College star, fired in 22 points to lead Wiley's Flying Aces, to a 68-55 victory over Stauderman's Insurance in the opening round of the 26th Annual YMCA Hudson Valley Basketball Tournament. In the second game, St. Andrew's Bishops of Beacon topped the IBM quintet, 79-70. Both games were played at the Dutchess Community College gym.

Stauderman's led in the first quarter 6-5, however, the winners ran off nine straight points and never trailed after that. Ernie Maywalt paced the scoring for the Aces in the first period as Fred Weiss and Steve Albrecht did the balance of the rebounding.

O'Neill entered the game late in the second period, but managed 12 of his 22 total in the closing minutes. Marsh had the hot hand as he went 7 for 11 from the floor at one juncture. Mark McCandlish and Dean Stickle paced the attack for the losers with 15 and 12 points respectively.

Frank McCray and Ty Quill, two former Beacon High greats, paced the scoring for the Beacon quintet. Quill hit for 16 and Mo Cray had 17. The winners combined tight defense and a fast-breaking offense to win the game.

IBM led in the first quarter, 10-9, then fell behind and trailed the rest of the tilt. Jim Powell, formerly of Newburgh led the losers with 20 points.

The tourney continues Wednesday night at Dutchess when Clarkstown Recreation meets D & D Market in the first game and Aero Lake faces SaVino Apparel in the second. Starting time is 7:15.

Pro Football Leagues To Retain Identities

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Professional football's most momentuous problem, to become one league of 26 teams or retain the identity of the National and American leagues, remained the No. 1 item on the agenda of the joint meeting today.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle cleared up one elemental point Monday:

By 1970, it will be officially and legally the National Football League for all 26 clubs.

"But," said Rozelle, "that's a matter of semantics. Operationally, the National Football League will be two leagues.

"By 1970, we will have had 10 years of highly publicized rivalry between the two leagues. It would be very difficult to come up with a single National League. A majority of the news media is against this."

A survey of season ticket buyers in Houston and San Diego, AFL cities, said Rozelle, showed that 95 per cent preferred to keep intact the image of the American League.

The survey also showed, said the commissioner, that much damage in the public image would be to the Super Bowl game, the high point of each league's season, as well as the All-Star games of each league.

Rozelle declined to speculate on how the committees representing their respective leagues would recommend a solution to the problem of two issues:

Total realignment of the present 26 teams, and addition of two more expansion teams by 1970, all under the single banner of the NFL.

Set Jaycee LL Registrations

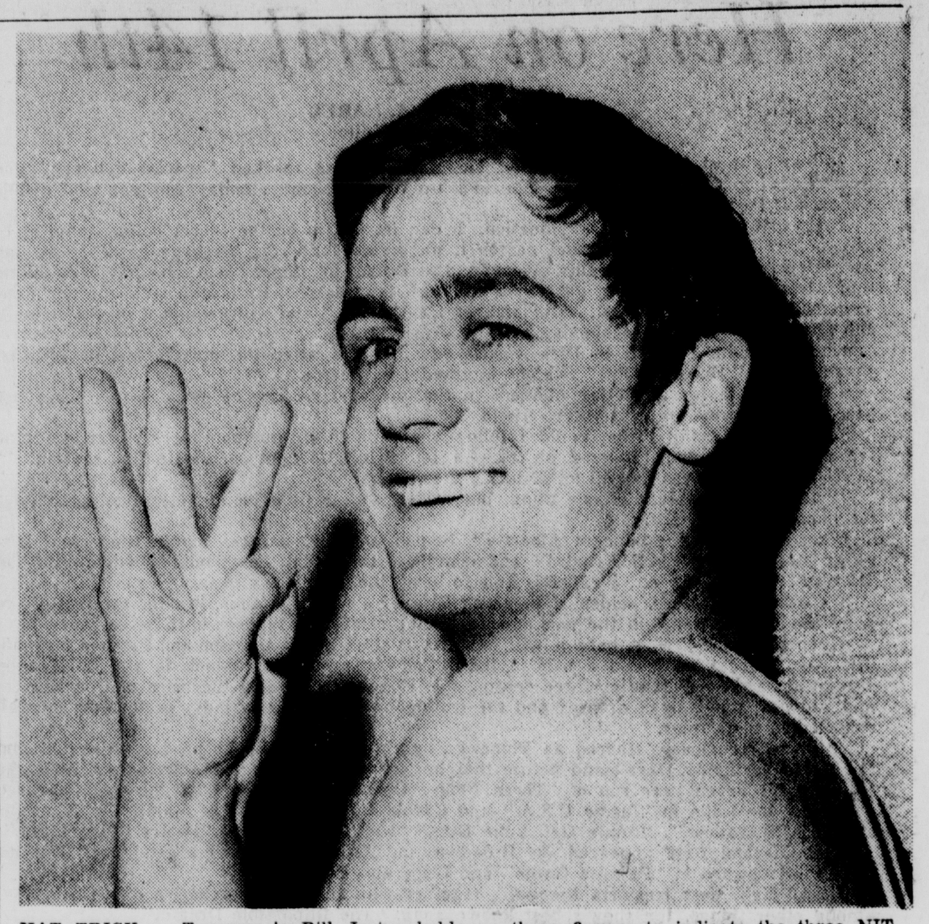

KINGSTON — The second registration session for the Jaycees Little League will be held Wednesday between 5:30 p. m. and 7 p. m. in the field house.

Other registration sessions are scheduled on Friday, March 21, and Saturday, March 22, at the same place.

Registrants must be accompanied by one of their parents. Boys registering for the first time must bring their birth certificate.

Boys between the ages of 8 and 12 are eligible to register, if they reside in Wards 1, 2, 3 and the 1st district of the 4th Ward, the Spring Lake and Flower Hill area.

This area was formerly the 11th, 12th and 13th wards.

HAT TRICK — Tennessee's Bill Justus holds up three fingers to indicate the three NIT records he set against Ohio U. Monday night — 18 straight free throws, 22 of 23 freebies and 34 points in Tennessee's 75-64 victory. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

For Bill Justus Steaks Mean FTs

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Justus isn't one to look a gift horse in the mouth, and maybe that's why he eats a little better than the rest of the Tennessee basketball team.

At 6-foot-1 and 175 pounds, Justus doesn't look like he has an enormous appetite. But when Coach Ray Mears started offering free steaks for free throws, Justus took him up on it, and now he has knife and forked the Vols into the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament.

"In preseason practice the coach buys you a steak dinner if you shoot 30 free throws in a row twice in one week."

Explained Justus after the Vols goboled up Ohio U. 75-64 Monday night in the quarter-finals.

"I think he still owes me one from last fall."

The crowd at Madison Square Garden, which first saw John Baum lead Temple past scrappy St. Peter's 94-78, must be thinking Mears owes Justus another sirloin, about 25 ounces, after his record-breaking free throw performance.

Justus, who led the Southeastern Conference at the charity line with 90.7 per cent accuracy and was second in the country, dropped his first 18 free throws against Ohio, an NIT record, and finished with two more marks for most attempted and most made, 222-of-23.

He had half of his 34 points and seven of his game high 12 rebounds in the first half when the methodical, ball-control Vols built a 40-28 lead.

Then, when the Bobcats closed within 55-50, Tennessee hit six straight free throws, four by Justus, and that wrapped up Tennessee's 20th triumph against six losses.

"We work on foul shooting quite a bit—at least 25 minutes a day," Mears said after his club hit 37-of-42 against Ohio. "We tried to draw fouls in the second half because we weren't shooting that well from the field." The Vols meet Temple in the semis Thursday night with the winners of tonight's games — Army against South Carolina and Louisville against Boston College—pairing off in the other semi. The final is Saturday afternoon.

Benvenuti Next Target for Little

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Freddie Little, the new junior middleweight champion, wants Nino Benvenuti of Italy next.

"I wouldn't even mind fighting him in Rome," the 32-year-old Las Vegas school teacher said Monday night after gaining the vacant title with a unanimous 15-round decision over Stanley "Kitten" Hayward of Philadelphia.

There were no knockdowns in the bout before 3,000 persons at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

"Benvenuti is the man I want now," the quiet-spoken Little said. "He holds the big middleweight title and that's what I'm really looking forward to getting."

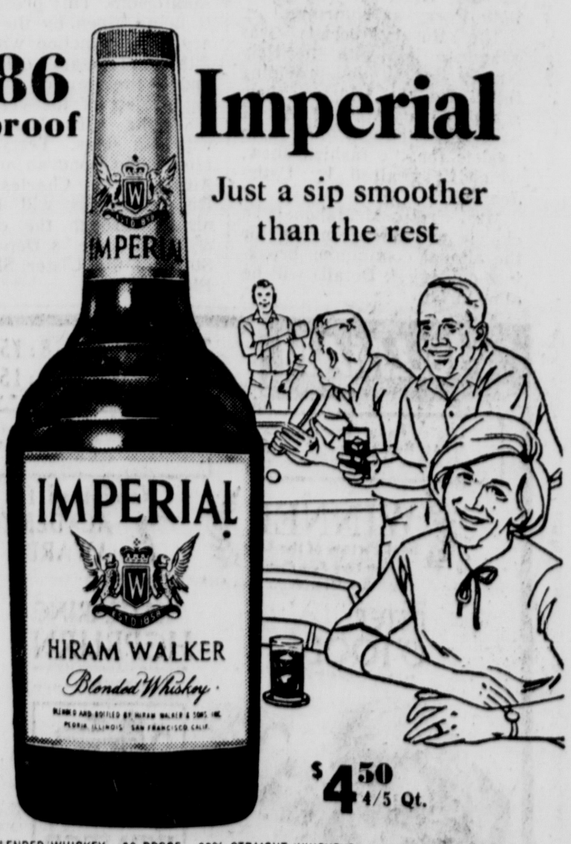

Little stalked his 29-year-old opponent relentlessly, relying on a sharp left counter and solid combinations to the face to win easily.

The three judges scored it 74-62, 73-63 and 73-64.

Boys Club Lists Winners

KINGSTON

Winners have been announced for the Kingston Boys Club Basketball Spot Shot contest in conjunction with National Boys' Club Week this week.

Edward Glynn won the senior boys group (13-15) by hitting 28 out of 50 tries from 18 feet out. Robert Eisele was first in the 11-12 year bracket with 29 of 50 and Paul Rockwell hit 33 of 50 in the 10-and-under division.

The 11-12 group shot from 15 feet, the 10-and-under from 8 feet. There were 73 original entries and eight qualifying periods over a four-week span. Any boy making 20 out of 50 shots qualified for the finals.

Other scores were: John McCardle 27, Douglas Rockwell 26, Phil Mason 28, Eugene Webster 23, Marlo Brandon 22, Kirby Amell 26, Tom Tubby 27, John Glynn 25.

Gilligan to Coach

KINGSTON

John J. (Jack) Gilligan, who recently announced his retirement from the coaching ranks, has one more coaching stint before he puts away the mufti for the last time.

The Kingston High School mentor has been named co coach of the Upstate New York all star team which will compete in the All-America High School tournament March 29-30 at La Salette Seminary school near Albany.

Gilligan and Sal Branner of Troy will handle the upstate team which vies against all-star arrays from New York City, Connecticut and the New England area.

The north and south areas of upper New York State meet in a special all-star contest on Saturday, March 22.

The south team, representing the area south of Albany to the New York City line, already has named standouts, including Skeeter Horne, 6-6, of Philip Schuyler High; Mike Doyle of Linton (Schenectady); Jack Goldwaithe, Mohonessen; Derrick Hunter of Highland Falls, Steve Abravazzi of Colonie and three players from the Long Island area.

Selected for the North squad were: Dan Stockwell, Union High, Canton; Don Johnston, Jamestown; Ken Spencer, Arcade; Robert Finney, Peru; Sam Gray, East High School, Rochester. Other players will be named later.

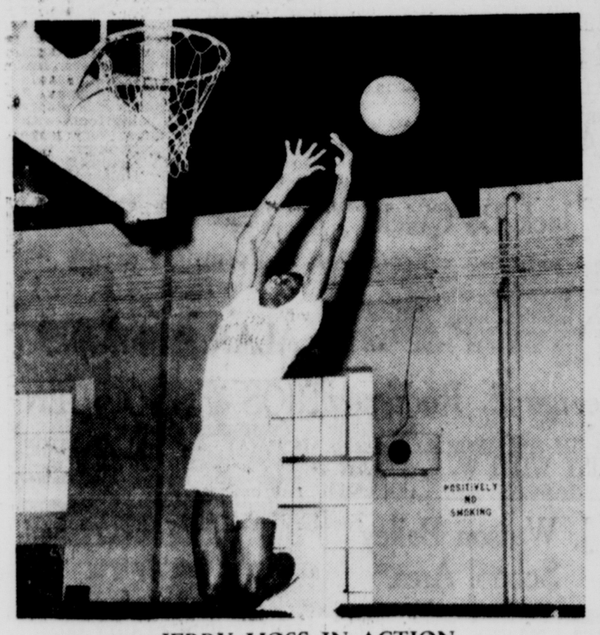

The high school tournament is the brainchild of Larry Surrell, a Schenectady sportswriter. It has proved a huge success and is now regarded as a postseason fixture where more than 200 college coaches and scouts can be found scouting talent.

Several scholarships have gone to boys as a result of play in the tournament.

Such area standouts as Greg Kohls of Roosevelt High and Scott McCandlish of Arlington appeared in the tournament last season.

Games are played at the La Salette High auditorium which has a seating capacity of 1,500.

Moss Bags Triple Crown

JERRY MOSS IN ACTION

KINGSTON

Jerry Moss, Ulster County Community College's high scoring jumping jack, has picked up the third jewel in his Triple Crown for the 1968-69 basketball season.

Moss has been named to the Region XV all-star team climaxing the second most sensational season in UCCC history.

Prior to his latest accolade, Moss had been picked for the all-star team in the Region XV tournament, was all Mid-Hudson Conference and Most Valuable player in the MHC tournament.

Named to the All-Region with Moss were Melvin Davis of Suffolk; Bernard Brown, New York CC; Fred Ephraim, Manhattan CC, and Albert Jones of Fashion Institute Tech of New York.

Moss racked up 563 points in 27 games for a 19.6 average for UCCC. He ranked eighth in assists in the region.

Brown averaged 20.5 points, with a 12.9 rebound average for New York Community. Melvin Davis hit at an 18.5 clip for Suffolk, with a 12.8 average.

Fred Ephraim of Manhattan averaged 20.1 points a game and picked off rebounds at an 11.6 game clip. Albert Jones of Fashion Institute led the all-star array with a thumping 29.7 point average and topped the group in rebounds with an average of 17.9 per game.

Ken Lam of Staten Island Community heads the second team with a 27.2 scoring average and the highest rebound average in the region—20.7.

The all-star teams:

Pitching Key at Highland

By MORT LAFFIN

HIGHLAND

Highland High School's baseball Coach, Lem Atkins, figures his chances for a successful season depend on the maturity of his pitching staff and the ability of his defense to protect small leads. Interpretation of that statement isn't difficult.

Atkins faces the same problem that most of the other area coaches have, and that is establishing a productive offense. The Highlanders lost four seniors from key positions and will be trying to fill them with returning, experienced ball players and boys coming up from the junior varsity.

"Gary Elia will probably be our top pitcher this year," the coach said. Elia is one of the premier performers from last season's squad, that finished second to Marlboro in the Ulster Highland's league record was 8-4 and 10-6 over-all.

Senior outfielder Pete Geer is another who must come through for Atkins if his team is to be in contention for the UCAL crown. Others vieing for positions on the starting nine are: Hardy Marx, junior catcher, Steve Tassante, outfielder, Anthony Biancardi, shortstop, Bob Mattice first baseman-pitcher.

Joe Skipp is returning to action for the Highlanders after a bout with arm trouble last season. Skipp will be a big plus for Atkin's squad, if his wounded wing has mended.

Highland will open the season, April 5 at Arlington.

It's not as pretty as a Xerox but then you won't spend as much time looking at it.

What a shame.
To get a copier because it'll save time, only to spend the time saved standing around waiting to use it.
Maybe what you need is a copier that copies just as well, but twice as fast.

One small enough to be inconspicuous, yet big enough to copy an 11" x 17" ledger sheet in one pass.
A copier that's simple to operate. Inexpensive to buy, rent or lease.

The Copystat 500. It's not flashy, but it's fast.

EMPLOYMENT

ATTENTION JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted ads from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than the legal minimum wage or fail to pay at least time and one-half for overtime hours. The minimum wage for employment covered by the FLSA prior to the 1966 Amendments is $1.60 an hour with overtime pay required after 40 hours a week. Jobs covered as a result of the 1966 Amendments require $1.15 an hour minimum with overtime pay required after 42 hours a week. For specific information, contact the Wage and Hour Office of the U. S. Department of Labor, 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. 10452, WYandotte 2-1235.
IMPORTANT NOTICE: The New York State Law against Discrimination and the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibit discrimination in employment because of sex unless based on a bona fide occupational qualification. Help Wanted and Situation Wanted advertisements are arranged in columns captioned "Male" and "Female" for the convenience of readers and are not intended as an unlawful limitation or discrimination based on sex.

Dear Abby

Ditch Phony 'Dad'

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1969 by Chicago Tribune - N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago my husband died and left me with two small sons, ages four and seven. At that time my husband's brother promised my boys he would be their "Daddy."

Well, "Daddy" has taken the boys to exactly ONE baseball game. I sent him a Father's Day card. ("To My Uncle") which he never even bothered to acknowledge. He ran in for a few minutes once last year at Christmas; to drop off a baseball glove for each of the boys.

His wife comes by nearly every day asking how the boys are "getting along." I told her my sons didn't need another mother, but they could sure use a father. She said she would share anything with me but her husband. I don't WANT her husband, I want my boys to have a father.

Please tell me how I can tell this whole family to drop dead in a nice way.

BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: Write off this phony "Daddy" and look around for a real one. Your brother-in-law is a heel, but you're spending far more time and energy hating him than he's worth.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We have a friend who has many fine qualities. She has a heart as big as she is. If any one of us needs a favor, for instance, if we are called out of town for a funeral or something unexpected, she is the one who takes our children — and gladly. I can't begin to tell you all the nice things this woman has done, expecting nothing in return. But Abby, does she lie!

Like if you compliment her on her dress, she'll say she made it. And she doesn't own a machine and she can't sew a stitch. Furthermore one of us was with her when she bought it. Also she will serve canned, frozen, or carried-in-food, and she'll look you right in the eye and tell you she made it from scratch.

So, Dear Abby, what do you do about a friend who lies?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: Nothing. You love her for her good qualities and skip the rest.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I think your advice to that mother who was concerned because her husband gave their 10-year-old daughter long, hard kisses on the lips stank!

What right do YOU have to tell a wife, "clear out and take your daughter with you"?

You're supposed to save marriages — not destroy them. If that's the best advice you can come up with, maybe you ought to quit.

FORMER ABBY FAN

DEAR FORMER FAN: Sorry, but what I said still goes. Not all marriages are worth saving, but children are. I received an astonishing number of letters similar to the one printed below. Please read it.

DEAR ABBY: You advised a mother to take her 10-year-old daughter and clear out because of the intimate kisses her husband was giving her. May I add "AMEN — and NOW!"

I happen to be the victim of such a father, and I had no one to rescue me either. (I told my mother, but she called me a "liar.") Eventually the worst happened. That was a long time ago. My father is gone now, but I still have nightmares.

I hope that mother takes your advice before it's too late.

Opening lead—♥ Q

The late George Kaufman was talking about a certain bridge player. George said, "There are two ways you can tell when he has a good hand. First his face lights up. Then he misplays it."

South might well have been that man. He sorted his cards and thundered out his one-spade bid. His four-spade call was equally firm but there was disappointment in his voice. He had hoped for a slam.

He won the heart lead in his own hand, thought awhile and played ace and eight of clubs. If West had produced the king, South would have had a parking place for his third heart but East had the king. Back came a second heart and South was in dummy. He tried the diamond finesse. That lost also. West cashed a heart and led back a diamond. South took his ace and had one last chance to make his contract. He played his ace of trumps but the king did not drop and he was down one.

"Why didn't you just raise me to three no-trump?" asked North. "I had a 100 honors in spades," replied South, who evidently had overlooked his 150 aces.

North gave up further attempts at conversation and started to deal, but we have a few comments. To start with, South might well have opened two no-trump. He certainly should have been happy to raise to three no-trump when his partner responded.

Most important, South should have made four spades without any tricks. The best way to make 10 would have been to win the heart lead in his own hand and play the ace and queen of diamonds. This would establish dummy's jack of diamonds as his 10th trick.

It's In The Stars

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY March 19, 1969

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Cycle at peak. You socialize, receive accolade. Circumstances turn in your favor. Timing improves. Give attention to apparel. You may be called upon to make personal appearance.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Much occurs behind the scenes. Be careful in what you say, write. Key is discretion. Some secret fears come to fore. Analyze them. Accent maturity. Problems are due to dissolve.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Stress on how to please friends who hold divergent views. Be flexible — maintain sense of humor. Your desires can become realities. Key is to know how much to request.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Accept responsibility. You can gain admiration, promotion if you follow through on obligations. Means don't skip basic duties. Ambition can be fulfilled; gain family backing.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Favorable lunar aspect today coincides with greater recognition of efforts. Perceive meanings — some are very subtle. Obtain hint from TAURUS message. A message arrives and solves dilemma.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Straighten accounts. Check inventory. Balance budget. Talk over finances with mate, partner. Money matters dominate. You get chance to prove worth. Realize one in authority favors your view.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Lie low. Let others do most of the talking. Your strength today lies in powers of observation. Detect trends, subtle nuances. Patch up differences between mate, partner or close associate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): New approach favored in accomplishing basic tasks. Revision in work methods indicated. Some try to block your way. Go forward. You will be provided with necessary material.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Be open to one who expresses interest in your welfare. In turn, give attention to young person who has special request. Day is one of contradictions. Ties of affection are questioned.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Accent on home, property. Take steps to make future more secure. Enlarge horizons. Don't get bogged down with one idea, method. Details are important, but shove aside red tape.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You are able to see persons, situations in more realistic light. Accent on how views are communicated. Strive to be articulate. Don't overlook essentials.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Some changes required if objective is to be reached. Money matters up for discussion. Hold down costs. Significant contact is made with GEMINI individual.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are independent, with original touch. Your style is your own; you are an innovator. Project recently begun begins to grow.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

LETTERLESS FUN: (Q.) I feel sort of guilty. My boy friend is in the Marine Corps. He's been in a year. He's overseas somewhere now. And I'm here having a field day. I've had a lot of dates and fun, but not with any boy in particular.

I don't believe I would have gone out so much if my boy friend had written me. I've kept up with his address through his sister and have written several times. But I haven't heard a word from him since he went in. Do you think I'm wrong to go out with other boys?—A Baffled Reader in New Jersey.

(A.) No. If anyone should feel guilty, your boy friend should. It is evident that he either didn't care very much for you when he left or that he found someone else along the way to care for more.

A boy who does not write once in a year deserves to be ignored. I urge you to keep having dates, and if you find someone to get serious with, go ahead and don't feel guilty.

MAN SCENT: (Q.) I got a bottle of men's cologne for a Valentine. When and where should a boy wear it? How much?—J. in Bridgeport, Conn.

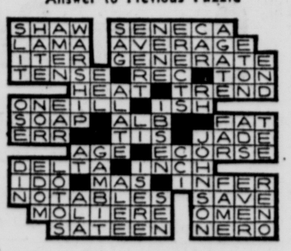

(A.) If the fragrance is manly and light and you apply it sparingly, it will add to your charm, and you can wear it anywhere, any time. But remember: Sparingly.

If it is heavy and sweet, throw it in the garbage. Nothing is more obnoxious than a man or boy wearing heavy cologne.

'Tiny' Heroine--Yeoman Job

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Deanna Lund, one of the tiny but beautiful heroines of "Land of the Giants," is a divorcee with two children who handles the man's job around the house.

Papers, Paints, Ceilings

She recently papered and painted one of the three bedrooms in an older house in West Los Angeles, sanded the floor in the dining room and installed a brick ceiling, of all things, in still another room.

Deanna, who was named for Deanna Durbin, would rather sit down and write poetry—which she does very well—or paint on canvas instead of walls. But she is gradually refurbishing the house.

Her younsters, Randy and Kim, are too young to be of much help. They are cared for by a Spanish-speaking housekeeper who lives with the Lund family.

Deanna is required to be at 20th Century-Fox studios from 6:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. five days a week. She hurries home in time to sit down while Randy and Kim have dinner and then tuck them into bed. She is usually too tired to fix dinner.

The actress eats a large breakfast, steak and eggs, which she prepares herself before driving the five minutes to the studio.

Weekends for Children

Weekends are spent with the children. While Deanna would like to play tennis or take off on a quiet trip, she remains in town taking her offspring to the beach, the park, a Disney movie and to Disneyland when Randy can talk her into it.

Marriage isn't in Deanna's immediate plans, but she does have dates, most often on Saturday or Sunday nights when she isn't exhausted from work on the ABC-TV series.

It's not just the hours that drain her energy. Deanna does most of her own stunts, climbing 30-foot ropes and tumbling down 15-foot slopes.

"But it's acting in a good series and worth it," she says.

When the series in in hiatus Deanna studies singing and Italian. Both her children speak fluent Spanish.

Deanna describes herself as a hat freak in an era of hatless females in southern California. She owns more than 25 varieties of headgear.

She is one woman who doesn't enjoy shopping. She wears tailored clothes, as she does on the show.

Daises Favorite

Her favorite decor is daisies of all kinds. The house abounds with them. Fresh-cut daisies fill vases in the living room and kitchen. They grow in the garden and she has still-life paintings of daisies on the walls.

When the children are asleep and the house quiet for the evening, Deanna likes to turn on the stereo, listening to classical music as well as the new sounds of pop groups.

A favorite family hour is early Sunday evening when all three Lunds gather around the television set to watch the show.

"The kids love it," Deanna says. "But they are thoroughly baffled at how tiny their mother is on the series."

Quick Quiz

Q—Which is the oldest of the stringed musical instruments?

A—The harp. The Bible says it was invented by Jubal. It was the musical accompaniment for the psalms of the ancient Jews and was played by David.

* * *

Q—In 1939, when the submarine Squalus sank off Portsmouth, N.H., how many men were saved?

A—Thirty-three of the 59 men aboard were rescued with a diving bell.

WHY WE SAY

BEDLAM

FROM BETHLEHEM: This word is derived from a hospital in London. In 1402 the priory of St. Mary of Bethlehem was turned into an insane asylum and the word bedlam became a modification of Bethlehem.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Roman roads were rarely equalled until the late 18th century, The World Almanac notes. To speed troops and supplies to all parts of the empire, the Romans built over 50,000 miles of roads between 400 B.C. and A.D. 400. The best of the roads, the Appian Way, was begun in 312 B.C. and eventually ran 366 miles from Rome to Brindisi. It was still usable as late as A.D. 650.

Reds Ease Up on Shellings, But Cong Terrorism Kills 52

SAIGON (UPI)—For the first time in their 24-day-old offensive, the Communists today spared Vietnamese population centers from shelling attacks. But Viet Cong terrorism killed 52 civilians and wounded 126.

There was no indication that the Communists had bowed to President Nixon's warning that continued bombardments of civilian centers would bring an "appropriate response." The Reds shelled 25 Allied military spokesmen said.

U.S. headquarters in Saigon said the last shelling of a civilian center was a 15-round rocket attack that killed 10 and wounded 24 at the Thanh My refugee camp near Da Nang at lunchtime Monday.

Those losses were included in the tally of civilian dead and wounded Monday in one of the costliest days of Viet Cong terror in the war.

In the worst incident, 25 civilians were killed and five wounded when two three-wheeled buses detonated Communist mines on a road 20 miles north of Saigon. Another 36 persons were kidnaped in the nationwide terror Monday, South Vietnamese headquarters said.

On a road 42 miles southeast of Saigon, still another Viet Cong mine burst beneath a school bus, killing two children and wounding 30.

At the same time, Saigon spokesmen said South Vietnamese soldiers had killed 122 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese soldiers in three days of fighting that ended Monday 36 miles northeast of Saigon. Allied losses were described as moderate to light.

Three Fronts

American troopers patrolling approach routes to Saigon clashed with Communist soldiers on three fronts outside the city Monday, killing 77 against what military spokesmen said were light U.S. losses.

In Saigon, American officials announced that Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker would leave for Washington this week for top-level discussions on the Communist offensive and peace talks. Also en route to the capital is William H. Sullivan, the U.S. ambassador to nearby Laos.

Pertinent to any top-level discussion on Vietnam is how the Communists are using the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) since the bombing of North Vietnam stopped Nov. 1.

In the zone Monday, U.S. spokesmen said, an American spotter pilot sighted a brand-new Communist bunker hideout and brought in barrages from a U.S. Navy cruiser off shore. The bombardment triggered nine fireballs and destroyed 10 bunkers, the command said.

British Poised For Invasion Of Anquilla

LONDON (UPI)—Britain mobilized 240 paratroops and policemen in full combat gear today for what diplomatic sources said might be an invasion of Anguilla in the Caribbean to restore colonial rule.

A British diplomat returned from the former island colony last week saying it was under control of "gangster-type elements," possibly Mafia hoodlums from the United States.

Army trucks carrying 20 red-bereted paratroopers and 40 policemen, all in combat gear, rumbled into the Royal Air Force Base at Lyneham, 70 miles west of London, late Monday. Two troop-carrying turboprop transports stood by.

On the rebellious island, self-proclaimed President Ronald Webster and a 250-man defense force vowed to "fight to the death" with a dozen 20-year-old cannons 13 carbines and two machine guns, the London Daily Express reported.

Ten of the defenders were in uniform, the Express said, while the 240 others were clad in sandals and shorts. Two American brothers identified as Raymond and Sherman Haskins led the defenders.

"We are prepared and intend to fight to the death," the Express quoted Webster, a West Indian.

The British invasion force would have two objectives, according to diplomatic sources —to restore law and order on the 30-square-mile island, and to pave the way for the restoration of British colonial rule over Anguilla's 6,000 inhabitants.

Britain is still responsible for the defense and foreign affairs of the St. Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla Federation, created in 1967 from former British Caribbean colonies. The islands lie about 150 miles due east of Puerto Rico.

Anguilla unilaterally declared its independence from the federation last May 30. William Whitlock, parliamentary undersecretary at the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, returned to London last week saying "gangster-type elements" on the island had forced him off at gunpoint.

Sabotage Discounted

MARACAIBO, Venecuela (UPI) —Venezuelan investigators said today an overheated engine may have caused a Viasa airliner to crash and kill 152 persons in history's worst air disaster.

A spokesman for eight government commissions probing the wreckage said the prime theory was that the plane's left engine caught fire under the strain of takeoff.

A high government official discounted reports the Miami-bound DC9 with 46 Americans among the 83 persons aboard was sabotaged.

Temperature may have played a major role. It was about 108 degrees on the ground at takeoff and only a light breeze was blowing over the runway. Normal takeoffs require that the air have a certain minimum density to insure flight. High temperatures can lower that density drastically.

All aboard were killed, as were at least 69 persons on the ground. Another 120 were injured and 17 remained in critical condition with burns and other injuries.
